Defeat For Johnson

Senate Rejects Cloture To Shut Off Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate refused today to invoke cloture and shut off the filibuster against the bill to end the right of states to outlaw the union shop.

The result was a defeat for President Johnson, who urged Congress both last year and in the new session to pass the bill repealing Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law. The section allows states to forbid labor contracts requiring all workers to join a union or at least pay dues.

It also was a blow to the AFL-CIO, which had placed the repealer at the top of its legislative agenda and had believed it stood an excellent chance to get the bill passed in the 89th Congress.

An hour before the vote, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen the measure will be dean for this session if he fails twice this week in his attempt to choke off the filibuster against it.

Mansfield reiterated that in case of failure today, he would file a second cloture petition to force a second attempt Thursday. And he made it clear he did not expect to win today.

He was running a fever and said he would go back to the hospital as soon as he filed the second cloture petition.

Mansfield has been trying since Jan. 24 just to get the Senate to agree to take up the bill, with the issue of passage yet to come up.

The measure, strongly supported by the AFL-CIO, passed the House last year 221 to 203. President Johnson has endorsed it.

The bill's supporters are confident they can pass it if they can ever get it to a vote. They claim about 54 votes for the legislation out of the 100 in the Senate.

However, the filibuster directed by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has prevented Mansfield even from getting the bill up for discussion on its merits.

Since Jan. 24 a well-organized band of Republicans and Southern Democrats has tied up the Senate on the issue, holding the floor throughout Senate sessions which have run as long as eight hours and preventing any vote.

Today's vote comes automatically one hour after the Senate convenes as a result of a cloture petition filed by Mansfield last Friday.

Over Scranton Budget

New 'Skirmish' Set On Spending

HARRISBURG (AP) — The stage was set today for another prolonged battle between Gov. Scranton and House Democrats over general fund spending.

Shortly after the Republican governor sent his record high budget of $1.464 billion for fiscal 1966-67 to the legislature Monday, Democrats initiated demands for revision of some of its recommendations for tax cuts.

They particularly took issue with Scranton's proposal to lay aside $50 million for school subsidy payments in the 1967-68 fiscal year and with his estimate of a $93.7 million surplus at the end of the current fiscal year June 30.

Democrat Martin P. Mullen, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee said there was a "distinct possibility of lowering the state sales tax from 5 to 4 per cent" if the budget were trimmed and the anticipated surplus re-estimated.

House Republicans responded that the governor's proposals and estimates were fiscally sound and that any effort to spend the $50 million in the coming fiscal year undoubtedly would result in a tax increase in the succeeding year.

On the whole, legislative comment was light, possibly because of the lawmakers' preoccupation with the House and Senate reapportionment plans handed down by the State Supreme Court last Friday.

Two senators—William G. Sesler, D-Erie, and Justin Kirolanio, D-Northampton —attacked the court in floor speeches for requiring new elections in all 50 Senate districts this year. Both were elected two years ago for four year terms.

The Senate Republican caucus took the first tentative steps toward trying to enact a legislative plan to supersede the court plan. The court, which took over after the legislature failed to agree last fall, said its plan could be amended.

Republican leaders, with at least some Democratic sympathizers, plan further efforts to get a bill through the legislature.

Scranton meanwhile summoned legislative leaders, state party chairmen and two Congressmen to a meeting with him today to try to work out an agreement on Congressional reapportionment. He has said he will not convene a special legislative session unless there is prior agreement.

Shortly after Scranton's budget message was received, Senate Republicans introduced legislation to implement the bulk of it. They also introduced bills to meet the governor's request for $2.7 million in additional and deficiency appropriations for the current year.

Mullen said he will begin public hearings on the budget Feb. 21, but added that his preliminary study indicates that $50 million to $75 million could be slashed from the spending proposals by cutting some 20,000 workers from the state payroll and by other economies.

Mullen also claimed that the governor has been wrong in previous years on his surplus estimates and that the current year surplus will be closer to $120 million than the $93.7 million projected by Scranton's budget makers.

U.S. Picks Up Moon Photos Sent By Luna

No Decision Made On Whether They'll Be Shown Publicly

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American space official disclosed today the United States has picked up photographs transmitted from the moon by the Soviet spacecraft Luna 9.

The disclosure by Dr. Edward C. Welsh, executive director of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, was the first official word that American technicians as well as those of Great Britain and the Soviet Union have been obtaining the first radio data ever transmitted from the moon.

Welsh told a reporter no decision had been reached on whether the U.S. pictures will be made public. He said he did not know whether they showed the same landscapes as those published by the British and Russians. The photos picked up by the U.S. receiving equipment are being analyzed and evaluated, he added.

"I think it is fairly important for the public to know," Welsh said, "that we don't have to rely completely on Russian statements or British pronouncements in order to find out something about what is going on."

Man Pleads Innocent In Fatal Brawl

A 28-year-old East End man, charged with manslaughter in the death of another in a fist fight, pleaded not guilty at arraignment Monday and a preliminary hearing has been scheduled for next Monday at East Palestine.

Chester Ice Jr. of 2212 Ohio Ave., filed a not guilty plea at yesterday's arraignment before County Judge Herbert Arfman.

Ice, 6-foot-4, is charged with the beating death of Charles J. Adams, 29, of 2201 Harvey Ave. outside the Bar-X Tavern on the Y. & O. Rd. Saturday night.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated said the two became involved in an argument inside the tavern, then went outside to the parking area where the fight took place.

Adams died later of multiple fractures of the skull and severe lacerations of the face.

Judge Arfman set bond for Ice at $2,000. Unable to post bond, he was returned to the County Jail at Lisbon.

Paratroops Kill 63 More Viet Cong

U.S. Planes Again Pound Targets In North Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. paratroopers killed at least 63 Viet Cong in bitter hand-to-hand combat near Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon, while Australians uncovered a large Communist supply depot in the scrublands 30 miles east of Saigon, U.S. officials reported today.

Another 52 or more Communists were killed when South Vietnamese forces struck back with planes, tanks and artillery to beat off an ambush of a government troop convoy in the Mekong Delta southwest of Saigon. But a government spokesman said South Vietnamese casualties were heavy.

U.S. jets again crossed the 17th Parallel frontier to pound targets in North Viet Nam and rain millions of propaganda leaflets explaining the resumption of air attacks. A Navy A4 Skyhawk fighter-bomber from the carrier Ticonderoga was shot down by antiaircraft fire 30 miles north of Vinh. The pilot ejected safely but was surrounded and evidently taken prisoner, other airmen reported. Radio Hanoi confirmed his capture.

The plane was the seventh reported lost since the 37-day bombing pause ended Jan. 31.

In the South, a small U.S. Air Force spotter plane crashed taking off from Cao Lanh air strip 75 miles southwest of Saigon. The American pilot walked away uninjured, but his Vietnamese observer was slightly hurt.

Although U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division units and Marines gave up hope of catching two Communist regiments in the Allied push into the An Lao Valley, a longtime Red stronghold near the central coast, other Viet Cong units gave ample evidence of their determination to fight in the past 24 hours.

The U.S. 101st Airborne's 1st Brigade tangled twice with the Viet Cong during a coastal sweep 11 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa known as Operation Van Buren. It is intended to protect the rice harvest in the lowlands.

About 150 paratroopers came under intense automatic fire from a Viet Cong company at noon Monday. The Americans closed in on the Communists in two hours of man-to-man combat and captured 20 Chinese-made submachine guns, a 50-caliber machine gun and two American-made carbines, a U.S. spokesman said.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CREWS began clearing the tracks near Industry today after this 15-car derailment late this morning. The 109-car freight was en route to the Conway Yards at the time. A railroad spokesman estimated it would take at least six hours to open the eastbound lane to traffic. The freight had 83 loaded cars and 26 empties.

HONOLULU (AP) — President Johnson scheduled an extra meeting today with top leaders of South Viet Nam after reviewing with the military aspects of the war — a war they want intensified.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson would have two meetings during the day with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and other officials of the Saigon government. Only one session was scheduled originally, but Moyers said the talks were going so well Johnson wanted to "keep the momentum."

Moyers did not claim, however, that Johnson and his guests had reached unanimity on all questions. When asked if this were the case, he replied, "I would say there was a great deal of empathy among the participants."

Johnson met for more than three hours Monday night with top members of the Saigon delegation. It was at this session that military strategy and tactics were discussed. The participants included Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Viet Nam, who hinted Sunday he wants more troops.

The mid-Pacific conference was scheduled to wind up today. However, Moyers said he understood there was a possibility the Vietnamese officials might remain in Honolulu until Wednesday.

Moyers was asked if any new directions in the war were discussed at the meeting Monday night in Johnson's hotel suite. He said he could not go into that.

Asked if the Vietnamese had sought a blockade of North Viet Nam's major port, Haiphong, and broader bombing operations in the North, Moyers said the conferees did not talk about specific numbers or types of operations.

Senate Vote Due On Gaming Bill

BULLETIN

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Senate passed 31-2 and sent to the House today a bill calling for a stiffer anti-gambling law which would apply to both public and private establishments. The measure is aimed primarily at coin - operated pinball and slot machines.

CHARLESTON (AP) — Fifteen bills and resolutions were at passage stage in the West Virginia House and Senate today as the lawmakers prepared to begin the annual ritual that precedes approval of the budget.

Among legislation to be voted on was a tougher anti-gambling measure in the Senate and the enabling machinery on governors' succession in the lower chamber.

But the main order of business was the proposed $198.9 general revenue budget for the coming fiscal year. Both houses passed their bills Monday.

Either version of the budget amounts to an increase of $19.1 million over current operating appropriations from general revenue. Both call for expenditures of $198.9 million, but differ slightly in how the funds should be distributed.

According to custom, the House has taken the Senate version, inserted its own bill, and returned it to the upper chamber with a request for passage. If the usual script prevails, the Senate will refuse to concur and then ask the delegates to recede from their amendments.

The delegates undoubtedly would stand fast and ask that a committee be appointed to settle the differences.

The Senate version was approved 28-4 after four amendments died on the floor. Two would have deleted the $250,000 Industrial Development Revolving Fund of the Commerce Department and erased the $50,000

Traditional Sales Event

Merchants Finish Plans For Dollar Day Thursday

East Liverpool's first Dollar Day of 1966 will be held Thursday.

The East Liverpool Merchants Association is completing plans for the semi - annual sale, a tradition of nearly half a century and always one of the highlights on the city's merchandising calendar.

Shoppers from all parts of the Tri - State District will find special values in such lines as men's, women's and children's clothing, furniture, jewelry, hardware, dry goods, appliances and many other items, the merchants pointed out.

Many businessmen will be offering a "preview" of new spring merchandise, looking forward to the promise of days of bright sunshine.

Because the event falls on Thursday, shoppers will have extra hours in which to browse through stores. Community bus firms will maintain service as usual until 8:30 p.m. to help transport crowds of shoppers.

For those who drive, ELMA cited the availability of parking lots in the business district. There are two metered municipal lots on W. 6th St. near City Hall, two more at 3rd and Market Sts., the so - called Ceramic Lot on E. 4th St. and a new facility on the south side of E. 5th St., near Jackson St.

There are several privately-owned lots open to the public—notably the Community Parking Lot at Walnut and E. 6th Sts.

Dollar Day events date back 48 years. The first sale, held in 1917, was such a success that businessmen voted to hold two each year — in February and August. Dollar Days have been traditional in East Liverpool since that time, although they were canceled during World War II because of merchandise shortages.

The ELMA Executive Committee is in charge of the event. It is comprised of: Dayton Allen, chairman, Ralph Finley, James Locke, Maurice Rapport, George A. Shaw, Max Shoff and Jack Steinberg.

Board Eyes 'Others' For Midland Post

Midland Supt. of School Edgar Richards today revealed he has received a certified letter from the Board of Education advising him "another or other candidates" will be considered for the post.

No mention of his contract—which will expire July 1—was made at a meeting of the board Monday night.

Richards said the letter, signed by all members of the board, was mailed as a registered, certified special delivery letter dated Feb. 2, but was received Monday morning.

Richards was named to the post two years ago to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Ralph Jewell who died.

Richards said today, "I am at a loss to explain the manner of communication in that I have had no indication from the board there was consideration of anyone else for the post at this time."

Edward Cilli of the board said today the letter means that the appointment will be thrown open to others who are qualified and that Richards will be eligible for reappointment.

Council Takes Action

Another Study Proposed For Reciprocal Tax Plan

Council agreed Monday night to investigate again the possibility of working out a reciprocal agreement with Midland under which the two communities would give their residents credit for income taxes paid in other communities.

Councilman Robert W. Sample pointed out that similar attempts were made in the past, but the city never was able to come to agreement with Midland officials.

The suggestion for a possible reciprocal agreement was made by Robert Hartford of East Palestine, who is counsel for an East Liverpool man who filed an action in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon asking a declaratory judgment to spell out his rights in the conflicting tax claims of East Liverpool and Midland. The man asserts that he resides in East Liverpool and works at Midland and, therefore, is forced to pay taxes in both communities.

Hartford said both East Liverpool and Midland now levy taxes of eight - tenths of 1 per cent. He said Pennsylvania state law relating to such taxes already contains provisions for reciprocal arrangements, although it is not spelled out in the Midland ordinance.

Under Hartford's proposal, an East Liverpool resident who worked at Midland would be exempt from the Midland tax and would pay the full eight - tenths of 1 per cent in his home town. The same rule would apply to Midland residents working in East Liverpool, he said.

With both communities levying a tax of the same amount, East Liverpool would collect a full eight - tenths from her residents working in Midland and Midland likewise would collect the full amount from her residents working here, he said.

Before Midland's tax was cut from 1 per cent to eight-tenths of 1 per cent, East Liverpool residents paid the full 1 per cent tax in Midland, he said. They were given credit for 50 per

But the main order of business was the proposed $198.9 general revenue. Both call for expenditures of $198.9 million, but differ slightly in how the funds should be distributed.

According to custom, the House has taken the Senate version, inserted its own bill, and returned it to the upper chamber with a request for passage. If the usual script prevails, the Senate will refuse to concur and then ask the delegates to recede from their amendments.

The delegates undoubtedly would stand fast and ask that a committee be appointed to settle the differences.

The Senate version was approved 28-4 after four amendments died on the floor. Two would have deleted the $250,000 Industrial Development Revolving Fund of the Commerce Department and erased the $50,000

Board Eyes 'Others' For Midland Post

Midland Supt. of School Edgar Richards today revealed he has received a certified letter from the Board of Education advising him "another or other candidates" will be considered for the post.

No mention of his contract—which will expire July 1—was made at a meeting of the board Monday night.

Richards said the letter, signed by all members of the board, was mailed as a registered, certified special delivery letter dated Feb. 2, but was received Monday morning.

Richards was named to the post two years ago to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Ralph Jewell who died.

Richards said today, "I am at a loss to explain the manner of communication in that I have had no indication from the board there was consideration of anyone else for the post at this time."

Edward Cilli of the board said today the letter means that the appointment will be thrown open to others who are qualified and that Richards will be eligible for reappointment.

Council Takes Action

Another Study Proposed For Reciprocal Tax Plan

Council agreed Monday night to investigate again the possibility of working out a reciprocal agreement with Midland under which the two communities would give their residents credit for income taxes paid in other communities.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper was assigned to conduct the study with the assistance of members of Council.

Councilman Robert W. Sample pointed out that similar attempts were made in the past, but the city never was able to come to agreement with Midland officials.

The suggestion for a possible reciprocal agreement was made by Robert Hartford of East Palestine, who is counsel for an East Liverpool man who filed an action in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon asking a declaratory judgment to spell out his rights in the conflicting tax claims of East Liverpool and Midland. The man asserts that he resides in East Liverpool and works at Midland and, therefore, is forced to pay taxes in both communities.

Hartford said both East Liverpool and Midland now levy taxes of eight - tenths of 1 per cent. He said Pennsylvania state law relating to such taxes already contains provisions for reciprocal arrangements, although it is not spelled out in the Midland ordinance.

Under Hartford's proposal, an East Liverpool resident who worked at Midland would be exempt from the Midland tax and would pay the full eight - tenths of 1 per cent in his home town. The same rule would apply to Midland residents working in East Liverpool, he said.

With both communities levying a tax of the same amount, East Liverpool would collect a full eight - tenths from her residents working in Midland and Midland likewise would collect the full amount from her residents working here, he said.

Before Midland's tax was cut from 1 per cent to eight-tenths of 1 per cent, East Liverpool residents paid the full 1 per cent tax in Midland, he said. They were given credit for 50 per

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: "Chicago Bachelor" got our blood pressure up with his list of 12 gripes against females. (He called it the "Dirty Dozen.") Since you offered the girls equal time we hope you will print the following list put together by six Chicago secretaries. We can't stand men who:

1. Ask for a phone number and never use it.
2. Keep pressing a girl to have just one more drink after she has said she's had enough.
3. Wear plastic rain covers over their hats.
4. Leave an embarrassingly small tip for the waiter or waitress.
5. Wear white socks with dark business suits.
6. Let you know (in the strictest of confidence, of course) that they made the grade with Gertie.
7. Douse cigarettes in coffee cups or grind out cigars in leftover food.
8. Turn on the car radio and sing over Frank Sinatra.
9. Show up with the grandfather of all colds and an urge to get romantic.
10. Try to disguise baldness by combing their few remaining hairs in reverse.
11. Make very small talk at cocktail parties while their eyes roam the room in search of someone they'd rather talk to.
12. Try to light a cigarette like Cary Grant and don't know how.

Happiest Wife

Dear Ann: I was the happiest second wife who ever lived—until a few weeks ago.

Mark and I were married in 1961. No man could be more considerate or generous or loving. He never spoke to me about the problems with his first wife but I heard from others about impossible demands.

Last week Mark underwent extensive surgery. I was at his bedside in the recovery room for several hours. When he was coming out the anesthetic he called repeatedly for his first wife—never did he call for me. It was the most shattering experience of my life.

Now I'm tortured with the fear that he may still be in love with her. If he is I don't want to keep him from her, no matter what the price. Please tell me if I should talk to Mark about this. I'm going out of my mind with anxiety.—THE RAGGED EDGE.

Dear Edge: It is how a husband behaves when he is conscious that counts. And apparently Mark's behavior is beautiful.

The fact that he called his first wife's name while coming out of the anesthetic does not mean that he is still in love with her. It means only that he was thinking about her. It may be that he associates her with feeling of discomfort and pain.

Awkward Age

Dear Ann: I'm a 13-year-old girl who is in the eighth grade and already I'm a has-been.

When I was 11 I was elected Little League Queen of our town. I was on top of the world and everybody was my friend. All of a sudden my complexion got bad and I have been on the downgrade ever since.

People are nice to me but I don't think they mean it. It seems like I'm always saying the wrong thing and making people mad. I'd give anything to turn the calendar back to the good old days when I was 11. Can't you help me regain my popularity?—MISS 13.

Dear Miss: Thirteen is about the worst age there is. It's sort of like being a fish with feathers. If you will show a genuine interest in people and their feelings, you'll have many friends—like in the good old days when you were 11.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Saxbe Ruling On Tax Actions Creates Problem For Board

A recent ruling by Att. Gen. William Saxbe regarding the ballot wording on tax resolutions for current expenses has the County Election Board in a quandary, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Saxbe held in an opinion interpreting sections of the Ohio Revised Code dealing with current expense levies that the wording of the ballots must conform with that used in the section under which the levy is filed, O'Hanlon said.

Some taxing authorities have developed a habit of adding explanations on what the money will be used for in submitting their resolutions, and some resolutions omit the words "current expenses" completely, the attorney general noted.

Ballots may say the money will be used only for current expenses and must not earmark its use, he ruled. Saxbe pointed out that money from current expense levies goes into the general funds of the subdivisions and may be used for any current expense regardless of whether it is specified for a specific purpose.

O'Hanlon said the ruling poses a serious problem since some local subdivisions already have filed resolutions earmarking the current expense levies for specific projects.

"Since we are not a judicial body, we have no right to make a ruling. We have to accept the wording of the resolution submitted by the subdivision," O'Hanlon said.

It is possible, however, that a taxpayer could bring a suit to enjoin the board from placing the issue on the ballot or to halt the collection of the money by the subdivision, he pointed out.

O'Hanlon recalled the many current expense levies submitted by cities, villages, townships and school districts in the past have been earmarked for specific purposes, such as street lighting, road maintenance, construction of buildings, and other needs.

At Meeting Monday

Midland's Board Takes Action On 2 Federal Plans

The Midland Board of Education approved plans to initiate two programs under the Elementary Secondary Education Act during a meeting Monday night at the high school.

The board acted on the recommendations of James Morrison, chairman of the committee that studied federal programs designed to help children of families with $2,000 or less annual income.

IN HIS report, Morrison explained that the school system would receive $40,365 under the program. "At present, there are 75 elementary, 35 high school and 4 parochial students who stand to benefit from the ESEA funds," he said.

The two programs Morrison recommended to the board include a summer program to begin after the present school year and "Project 1966-1967," which would start next September.

The summer program would have three phases of instruction, according to Morrison.

Business education classes would be initiated for students in grades 9 through 11 for both public and parochial schools. "These classes would be on a voluntary basis and provide added study for students failing to get full benefit out of the regular business classes at the high school," he said.

A Development of Corrective Reading would form the second phase of the summer program designed to help students strengthen their reading ability.

"This program also would be voluntary for children of public and parochial schools. Any effort to make the program mandatory could hinder its effectiveness," Morrison commented.

THE THIRD phase is designed to prepare pre-kindergarten students for adaptation to group functions in a classroom and to prepare kindergarten children for the switch to first grade of elementary studies.

"Project 1966-1967" is a six-step approach toward aiding the underprivileged children, Morrison said:

"It includes a remedial reading development program, cutting kindergarten classes to 15-to-17 students, with four classes instead of the two that are now in session, the creation of a cultural enrichment program, a speech program, setting up an elementary school library and organizing an auditing office for maintaining separate records for the ESEA program.

"The remedial development program would be directed at elementary students and would require a special teacher, materials and equipment which would cost $7,000.

"By cutting kindergarten classes and hiring two extra teachers for the added classes and providing materials, the kindergarten expenses would rise to $12,800.

"An art teacher and a speech therapist would have to be hired in order to properly supervise the cultural enrichment and the speech programs. The elementary schools have needed an improved library and a librarian for some time and this would give the students a storeroom of research materials to help in their studies. The total amount needed for these programs is $38,600, about $1,765 less than the amount provided.

MORRISON recommended that the balance of the allotment be set up for a nourishment program he described as a "Milk Program."

"People would be surprised, and perhaps a little shocked, if they knew how many children came to school without any nourishment what-so-ever due to their home environment. The balance of the allotment could be used to provide milk for these children to pick them up for the school day," he said.

Morrison urged the board to act immediately to take advantage of the ESEA. "There are just six months left to benefit from this program, since it was enacted in August 1965. We must get the program rolling at once in order to start our summer programs this year."

In other action, the board approved a one-year sabbatical leave for English teacher Melvin D. Lang, granted permission for the use of the old gymnasium at the high school to the Serbian Club basketball team and approved the start of the Bishop Sewing Class which is sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

A letter from Theodore A. Tenor, who is acting as attorney for the U.S.A. and G. Co., informed the board that he would use the name of the Midland Board of Education as the plaintiff if his company should have to enter court to be reimbursed for a claim against the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works for damage to the school district during blasting operations in April, May and June of 1964.

Tenor said his company will file suit against the Aetna Insurance Co., which is representing Crucible.

RELATIVE to permitting organizations outside of the school to use the old gymnasium and other facilities, John Uccellini recommended the board "stipulate protection against liability of injuries to members of the organization and spectators attending the proceedings."

The board turned the recommendation over to the rules and regulation committee.

Sam Rosatone, superintendent of maintenance, reported that work has been completed by the Woods Ventilating and Heating Co. on the 4th St. School furnaces. The company replaced the old duct work and repaired the flue and the furnace is now working satisfactorily, he reported.

Edgar E. Richards, superintendent of schools, reported the hiring of John Buzzinotti as mathematics teacher and asked that the board approve the appointment.

Richards also reported that Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dragelevich requested home-bound instruction for their daughter, Jeannette, a sixth-grade student at 7th St. School. Miss Dragelevich is recuperating from a broken leg suffered in a fall at home. He requested that a policy be set in such cases.

He informed the board that the school had an opportunity to purchase the dictation and transition machines used in the administration office at 50 per cent recovery of the renting fees for the first year. The value of the machines was placed at $835, with the purchase price $651.

The board approved the hiring of Buzzinotti and the purchase of the dictation and transition machines. It also granted the request of Mr. and Mrs. Dragelevich that their daughter receive home-bound instruction.

A recommendation by Richards relative to setting up a detention hall for disciplinary purposes at the high school was turned over to the Education Committee for further study.

Richards recommended that the detention period be set between 3:30 and 4:30 p. m. "The period would be used in an effort to help discourage tardiness and absenteeism as a control over class lateness and as punishment for abuse and lack of respect to the rules and regulations of the school," he said.

All bills were approved and paid, the treasurer's report was accepted and the tax collector's report approved.

In making potato pancakes you might like to experiment. One time grate the potatoes fine, another time grate them coarsely; the type of grating you use makes for a difference in taste and texture.

Western Beaver Hires 2 Coaches, Custodian

The Western Beaver Board of Education approved the appointment of two coaches and the hiring of a custodian at a meeting Monday night at the high school.

Cecil Allison was appointed as head coach of the track team for the coming season. He will be assisted by Fred Latherow.

Harold Shank Sr. was hired as custodian for the Logan and Elementary Schools.

THE BOARD authorized meetings with the teachers' welfare committee and the Ohioville Council finance committee.

Acting on the request of the Western Beaver Education Association, the board will meet with the teachers' group Feb. 21 at 7 p. m. at the high school.

The meeting with the borough's finance committee is scheduled for March 7 at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Facing discussion at the session will be a community college resolution, which the board tabled pending action by the budget and finance committee.

The school calendar for 1966-1967 was approved.

IN OTHER actions, the board approved a sabbatical leave for the 1966-1967 school year for Mrs. Fay Laing, first-grade teacher at Snyder School, and granted permission for field trips to several organizations and students.

Among the trips approved were permission for the fifth-grade students to visit the Shippingport Atomic Power Plant, the Spanish Club to attend a modern language program at Buhl Planetarium on Pittsburgh Feb. 24 and the art classes to attend an exhibition at Pittsburgh.

The Dollars for Scholars committee was given permission to use part of the high school band in its annual drive to solicit money for its program.

David Verzella was granted permission to attend the Region 4 state band conference at Elizabeth Forward High School Thursday through Saturday and Lois Myers was given permission to participate in the Westminster College honor band program March 5.

Girl Scout Troop 34 meetings to be held on Tuesday at Logan School from 3:10 to 4:30 p.m. were approved.

The Midland Area Girl Scouts committee was granted permission to hold the annual tea at the high school cafetorium on March 12.

Bills totaling $69,300 were approved for payment. Of this total, $42,376 was for salaries.

New Committees Set By South Side's Board

The committees follow: Buildings and grounds, Harvey M. Todd, chairman, Charles R. Ross, Paul Brandon and Mrs. Wilda Potts; education, William V. Faulk, chairman, Mrs. Dorothea Brooks and Mrs. Hazel Walker; transportation, James E. McCoy, chairman, James Ashcroft, Mrs. Carolyn Wright, Mrs. Donna McCandless and Mrs. Cora Hewitt; insurance, Clifford M. Lyon, chairman, Mrs. Ruth Trimble and Mrs. Julia Stevens; budget and finance, Chester F. Elliott, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, Mrs. Dorothy Hayward, Donald Doak, Mrs. Wanda Hamilton and William C. Frazier.

The Rams Athletic Boosters Club was granted permission to hold a dance in the elementary school all-purpose room Feb. 19, following the crowning of the king and queen of the annual Mardi Gras.

The club also was granted permission to hold its annual athletic banquet at the high school cafeteria April 16.

The resignation of Mrs. Darlene Dhayer, elementary school secretary, was approved. Applicants for the post may contact Robert R. Wagner, elementary principal.

The calendar for the 1966-1967 school year was approved, with school starting Aug. 31 and ending June 7.

Mrs. William Keefer, fifth-grade teacher, was granted a sabbatical leave for the 1966-1967 term for educational purposes.

Heir Charged With Murder

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Friede, an heir to the Annenberg publishing empire, has been charged with homocide in the death of a young woman whose body was found in the trunk of his car.

The girl, Celeste Crenshaw, 19, died two weeks ago of "acute and chronic intravenous narcotism," according to a medical examiner. Police said Friede had given her the injection in his East Side apartment.

Friede, 25, also was charged with failing to report a death, illegal transportation of a body, and possession of narcotics. A musician, Dudley Watson, 37, was arrested later and charged with illegal transportation of a body and possession of narcotics.

Miss Crenshaw, a pretty strawberry blonde, was the product of a well-to-do but broken home. She and Friede had been arrested on a narcotics charge in August 1964 and had been placed on probation, police said.

Presbytery's Meeting Held

Several delegates represented Hancock County during Monday's meeting of the Presbytery of Wheeling at the Third United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling, with the Rev. Andrew Slade host pastor.

Attending the all-day session were the Rev. Charles Haddock of Newell and two Chester pastors, the Rev. Donald Bell and the Rev. C. Donald Vogel. The Rev. J. Leslie Bell of Butler, Pa., father of Rev. Bell, attended as a corresponding member.

Elders attending were R. M. McFarland of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester and J. Alvin Lange of the First United Presbyterian Church of Chester. Glenn Herron and Mrs. Dean Householder represented the New Cumberland United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. John Gray, pastor of the Roney's Point United Presbyterian Church, was installed as the moderator of the Presbytery by the retiring moderator, the Rev. Robert Sheehan, pastor of the Bethlehem United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling.

A call was extended to the Rev. Paul Anderson of New Castle, Pa., by the congregation of the New Cumberland United Presbyterian Church. Rev. Anderson expects to be in the field about April 1, pending action by the congregation he now serves and by Shenago Presbytery.

Mrs. Margaret McClelland, director of Christian Education at the Vance Memorial United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling, presented a film on the Synod's Leadership Training School held each summer at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa.

Delegates to the 178th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in Boston, Mass., next May were elected as follows:

The Rev. Grant Lowe, pastor of the New Martinsville United Presbyterian Church, principal pastor delegate; the Rev. 2 Witnesses Bare Mossler Murder Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The state of Florida has promised to prove that Mrs. Candace Mossler and her nephew as illicit lovers designed the murder of her husband, multimillionaire Jacques Mossler. Now the prosecution is promising to make good its pledge.

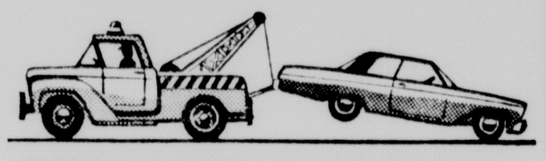

"He asked about someone to make a hit . . . bump someone off . . . it was worth $10,000," said one witness about the nephew, Melvin Lane Powers. A second added, "Mr. Mossler knew about him and Mrs. Mossler."

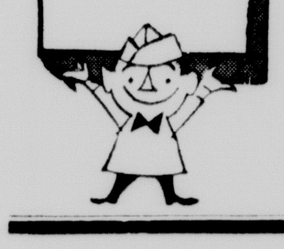

In hard-bitten tones Monday, the pair etched a chilling picture of Mrs. Mossler and Powers shopping about for two years to hire themselves a killer, raising the fee when it seemed in order.

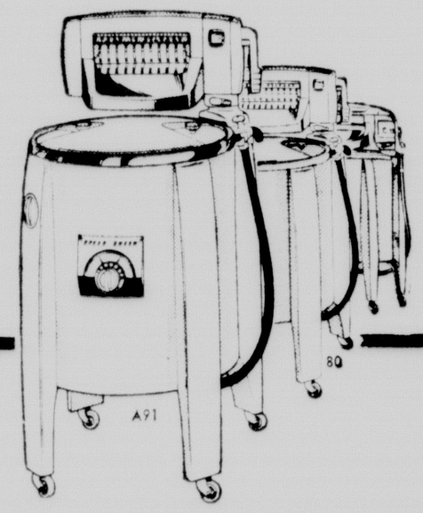

The first-degree murder trial in the sixth-floor Dade County circuit courtroom resumes today with one of the alleged killer-for-hire candidates, Edward Bart Diehl, back briefly on the witness stand.

There are more than 1,900 health insuring agencies in the nation. Last year they paid $8.7 billion in benefits.

Midland's Board Takes Action On 2 Federal Plans

The board acted on the recommendations of James Morrison, chairman of the committee that studied federal programs designed to help children of families with $2,000 or less annual income.

IN HIS report, Morrison explained that the school system would receive $40,365 under the program. "At present, there are 75 elementary, 35 high school and 4 parochial students who stand to benefit from the ESEA funds," he said.

The two programs Morrison recommended to the board include a summer program to begin after the present school year and "Project 1966-1967," which would start next September.

The summer program would have three phases of instruction, according to Morrison.

Business education classes would be initiated for students in grades 9 through 11 for both public and parochial schools. "These classes would be on a voluntary basis and provide added study for students failing to get full benefit out of the regular business classes at the high school," he said.

A Development of Corrective Reading would form the second phase of the summer program designed to help students strengthen their reading ability.

"This program also would be voluntary for children of public and parochial schools. Any effort to make the program mandatory could hinder its effectiveness," Morrison commented.

THE THIRD phase is designed to prepare pre-kindergarten students for adaptation to group functions in a classroom and to prepare kindergarten children for the switch to first grade of elementary studies.

"Project 1966-1967" is a six-step approach toward aiding the underpriviledged children, Morrison said:

"It includes a remedial reading development program, cutting kindergarten classes to 15-to-17 students, with four classes instead of the two that are now in session, the creation of a cultural enrichment program, a speech program, setting up an elementary school library and organizing an auditing office for maintaining separate records for the ESEA program.

"The remedial development program would be directed at elementary students and would require a special teacher, materials and equipment which would cost $7,000.

"By cutting kindergarten classes and hiring two extra teachers for the added classes and providing materials, the kindergarten expenses would rise to $12,800.

"An art teacher and a speech therapist would have to be hired in order to properly supervise the cultural enrichment and the speech programs. The elementary schools have needed an improved library and a librarian for some time and this would give the students a storeroom of research materials to help in their studies. The total amount needed for these programs is $38,600, about $1,765 less than the amount provided.

MORRISON recommended that the balance of the allotment be set up for a nourishment program he described as a "Milk Program."

"People would be surprised, and perhaps a little shocked, if they knew how many children came to school without any nourishment what-so-ever due to their home environment. The balance of the allotment could be used to provide milk for these children to pick them up for the school day," he said.

Morrison urged the board to act immediately to take advantage of the ESEA. "There are just six months left to benefit from this program, since it was enacted in August 1965. We must get the program rolling at once in order to start our summer programs this year."

In other action, the board approved a one-year sabbatical leave for English teacher Melvin D. Lang, granted permission for the use of the old gymnasium at the high school to the Serbian Club basketball team and approved the start of the Bishop Sewing Class which is sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

A letter from Theodore A. Tenor, who is acting as attorney for the U.S.A. and G. Co., informed the board that he would use the name of the Midland Board of Education as the plaintiff if his company should have to enter court to be reimbursed for a claim against the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works for damage to the school district during blasting operations in April, May and June of 1964.

Tenor said his company will file suit against the Aetna Insurance Co., which is representing Crucible.

RELATIVE to permitting organizations outside of the school to use the old gymnasium and other facilities, John Uccellini recommended the board "stipulate protection against liability of injuries to members of the organization and spectators attending the proceedings."

The board turned the recommendation over to the rules and regulation committee.

Sam Rosatone, superintendent of maintenance, reported that work has been completed by the Woods Ventilating and Heating Co. on the 4th St. School furnaces. The company replaced the old duct work and repaired the flue and the furnace is now working satisfactorily, he reported.

Edgar E. Richards, superintendent of schools, reported the hiring of John Buzzinotti as mathematics teacher and asked that the board approve the appointment.

Richards also reported that Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dragelevich requested home - bound instruction for their daughter, Jeannette, a sixth - grade student at 7th St. School. Miss Dragelevich is recuperating from a broken leg suffered in a fall at home. He requested that a policy be set in such cases.

He informed the board that the school had an opportunity to purchase the dictation and transition machines used in the administration office at 50 per cent recovery of the renting fees for the first year. The value of the machines was placed at $835, with the purchase price $651.

The board approved the hiring of Buzzinotti and the purchase of the dictation and transition machines. It also granted the request of Mr. and Mrs. Dragelevich that their daughter receive home-bound instruction.

A recommendation by Richards relative to setting up a detention hall for disciplinary purposes at the high school was turned over to the Education Committee for further study.

Richards recommended that the detention period be set between 3:30 and 4:30 p. m. "The period would be used in an effort to help discourage tardiness and absenteeism as a control over class lateness and as punishment for abuse and lack of respect to the rules and regulations of the school," he said.

All bills were approved and paid, the treasurer's report was accepted and the tax collector's report approved.

In making potato pancakes you might like to experiment. One time grate the potatoes fine, another time grate them coarsely; the type of grating you use makes for a difference in taste and texture.

Western Beaver Hires 2 Coaches, Custodian

The Western Beaver Board of Education approved the appointment of two coaches and the hiring of a custodian at a meeting Monday night at the high school.

Cecil Allison was appointed as head coach of the track team for the coming season. He will be assisted by Fred Latherow.

Harold Shank Sr. was hired as custodian for the Logan and Elementary Schools.

THE BOARD authorized meetings with the teachers' welfare committee and the Ohioville Council finance committee.

Acting on the request of the Western Beaver Education Association, the board will meet with the teachers' group Feb. 21 at 7 p. m. at the high school.

The meeting with the borough's finance committee is scheduled for March 7 at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Facing discussion at the session will be a community college resolution, which the board tabled pending action by the budget and finance committee.

The school calendar for 1966-1967 was approved.

IN OTHER actions, the board approved a sabbatical leave for the 1966-1967 school year for Mrs. Fay Laing, first - grade teacher at Snyder School, and granted permission for field trips to several organizations and students.

Among the trips approved were permission for the fifth-grade students to visit the Shippingport Atomic Power Plant, the Spanish Club to attend a modern language program at Buhl Planetarium on Pittsburgh Feb. 24 and the art classes to attend an exhibition at Pittsburgh.

The Dollars for Scholars committee was given permission to use part of the high school band in its annual drive to solicit money for its program.

David Verzella was granted permission to attend the Region 4 state band conference at Elizabeth Forward High School Thursday through Saturday and Lois Myers was given permission to participate in the Westminster College honor band program March 5.

Girl Scout Troop 34 meetings to be held on Tuesday at Logan School from 3:10 to 4:30 p.m. were approved.

The Midland Area Girl Scouts committee was granted permission to hold the annual tea at the high school cafetorium on March 12.

Bills totaling $69,300 were approved for payment. Of this total, $42,376 was for salaries.

New Committees Set By South Side's Board

The committees follow: Buildings and grounds, Harvey M. Todd, chairman, Charles R. Ross, Paul Brandon and Mrs. Wilda Potts; education, William V. Faulk, chairman, Mrs. Dorothea Brooks and Mrs. Hazel Walker; transportation, James E. McCoy, chairman, James Ashcroft, Mrs. Carolyn Wright, Mrs. Donna McCandless and Mrs. Cora Hewitt; insurance, Clifford M. Lyon, chairman, Mrs. Ruth Trimble and Mrs. Julia Stevens; budget and finance, Chester F. Elliott, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, Mrs. Dorothy Hayward, Donald Doak, Mrs. Wanda Hamilton and William C. Frazier.

The Rams Athletic Boosters Club was granted permission to hold a dance in the elementary school all-purpose room Feb. 19, following the crowning of the king and queen of the annual Mardi Gras.

The club also was granted permission to hold its annual athletic banquet at the high school cafeteria April 16.

The resignation of Mrs. Darlene Dhayer, elementary school secretary, was approved. Applicants for the post may contact Robert R. Wagner, elementary principal.

The calendar for the 1966-1967 school year was approved, with school starting Aug. 31 and ending June 7.

Mrs. William Keefer, fifth - grade teacher, was granted a sabbatical leave for the 1966-1967 term for educational purposes.

Heir Charged With Murder

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Friede, an heir to the Annenberg publishing empire, has been charged with homocide in the death of a young woman whose body was found in the trunk of his car.

The girl, Celeste Crenshaw, 19, died two weeks ago of "acute and chronic intravenous narcotism," according to a medical examiner. Police said Friede had given her the injection in his East Side apartment.

Friede, 25, also was charged with failing to report a death, illegal transportation of a body, and possession of narcotics. A musician, Dudley Watson, 37, was arrested later and charged with illegal transportation of a body and possession of narcotics.

Miss Crenshaw, a pretty strawberry blonde, was the product of a well-to-do but broken home. She and Friede had been arrested on a narcotics charge in August 1964 and had been placed on probation, police said.

Presbytery's Meeting Held

Several delegates represented Hancock County during Monday's meeting of the Presbytery of Wheeling at the Third United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling, with the Rev. Andrew Slade host pastor.

Attending the all-day session were the Rev. Charles Haddock of Newell and two Chester pastors, the Rev. Donald Bell and the Rev. C. Donald Vogel. The Rev. J. Leslie Bell of Butler, Pa., father of Rev. Bell, attended as a corresponding member.

Elders attending were R. M. McFarland of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester and J. Alvin Lange of the First United Presbyterian Church of Chester. Glenn Herron and Mrs. Dean Householder represented the New Cumberland United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. John Gray, pastor of the Roney's Point United Presbyterian Church, was installed as the moderator of the Presbytery by the retiring moderator, the Rev. Robert Sheehan, pastor of the Bethlehem United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling.

A call was extended to the Rev. Paul Anderson of New Castle, Pa., by the congregation of the New Cumberland United Presbyterian Church. Rev. Anderson expects to be in the field about April 1, pending action by the congregation he now serves and by Shenago Presbytery.

Mrs. Margaret McClelland, director of Christian Education at the Vance Memorial United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling, presented a film on the Synod's Leadership Training School held each summer at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa.

Delegates to the 178th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in Boston, Mass., next May were elected as follows:

The Rev. Grant Lowe, pastor of the New Martinsville United Presbyterian Church, principal pastor delegate; the Rev. Arthur Freet, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Wheeling, alternate pastor delegate; C. C. Phipps of the Warwood United Presbyterian Church, principal elder delegate, and W. C. Turning The Leadership Cogs

It is too bad President Johnson won't be visiting with a wider spectrum of Asiatic political leadership than the top officials of South Viet Nam during his visit to Hawaii.

The people he really needs to talk to are the top officials of North Viet Nam, the leaders of the Viet Cong and, of course, the top officials of the Chinese People's Republic.

The President might get somewhere with them. They are the men making the war in Viet Nam. They are the men whose frame of mind in the months ahead will determine whether the United States is going to find itself involved in one of the major wars of all time.

The evidence points to the probability Mr. Johnson wants to talk to the South Vietnamese leaders about South Viet Nam. Even though there is plenty to talk about, none of it could have much bearing on the progress of the fighting or the prospect of becoming embroiled in an Asiatic Armageddon.

It even might be surmised that the reason for a visit with South Viet Nam leadership at this time is to avert another political overthrow there, which would add still further to the impression that the United States is holding up an empty sack there and calling it a government.

Inevitably, Americans are going to remember when President Truman met Gen. MacArthur on Wake Island in October 1950. The subject of their discussion was Korea. Gen MacArthur was full of joy afterward. President Truman was full of praise. He gave the general an Oak Leaf Cluster to show how he felt about him. Everything was ipsy-pipsy in October 1950.

The next April, President Truman relieved Gen. MacArthur of his command for going contrary to presidential orders and persistently demanding an attack on Red China. It was the most sensational collision between a commander-in-chief and a chief commander since President Lincoln fired Gen. George B. McLellan.

Not everything that matters in these affairs meets the eye.

A Real Asset

As Supt. Joseph Walters pointed out in his report, "many of our local people take it for granted."

He was referring to Thompson Park and the expanded facilities it continues to offer.

He quite likely is correct in his assumption. It is typical—not only in relation to parks but in other matters—that "outsiders" are more apt to express appreciation. Those on the scene from day to day have a tendency to take such things for granted.

Regardless, we can assure Mr. Walters that while there may be many who take the park for granted there are many, many others fully appreciative of its beauty, its varied facilities and its place in the community.

A continuance of the present program will make Thompson Park an even greater asset in the future.

Let's Not And Say We Did

Nothing could bring more joy to Mudtown, U.S.A., than hard feeling between Fidel Castro in Cuba and his big brothers in Peking.

A few years back when Castro was saying bad things about his big brothers in Moscow there was joy in Mudtown, too. But mingled with our joy is a gnawing misgiving.

Will the mighty policy makers of our government be able to take a detached point of view about squabbles between Castro and the Communist puppeteers who have been jerking his strings?

Or will they commit the United States to a partisan position in this quarrel, finding merit where no merit exists?

The United States has seemed to believe in recent years that every nation must be on one side or the other — that there is no third position. It has been harsh about neutrality, preferring to believe any government which claims to be neutral is either being hostile to both disputants, or is secretly helping one of them.

Surely in any altercation between Castro and the Chinese Communists, or between quarreling Communists anywhere on earth, the United States can afford to stay on the sidelines.

If it is afraid of setting a precedent that might encourage other governments to assume neutralist positions, the fear may not be well-founded. Other governments, seeing how much trouble the United States gets into by rushing to take sides, have every good reason to stay as far out of trouble as all of them have managed to stay so far in Viet Nam.

History Is Where You Find It

We could wish President Johnson hadn't called skeptics about the undeclared war in Viet Nam "blind to history."

As a one-time school teacher, the President must know the lessons taught by history are rarely absolute, often relative. History is where you look for it and find it, moreover.

The history of the French Republic when it was dealing with insurgents in Indo-China indicates strongly that any Western power which tackles these people in a guerrilla war is undertaking an endless campaign in frustration.

The history of Western powers in general in Asia suggests pointedly that they can march up the hill and down again in trails of blood but eventually will be frustrated by the sheer numbers of their Asiatic opponents. It has happened many times, most recently to the United States when it settled for a truce in Korea. It has happened to the British and the Dutch.

Military history points to the futility of fighting on the wrong terrain. Many militarists think Viet Nam is the wrong terrain against the wrong enemy with the wrong strategy at the wrong time—a war that cannot be won and whose stalemating would damage U.S. prestige in Asia and the rest of the world.

There is one more lesson of history many students of history have learned—that war is not an effectual instrument of national policy. Many Americans reached that conclusion after World War I, when their young men died in vain to make the world safe for democracy. They tried to outlaw war in the 1920s. They tried again after World War II.

They will assuredly try again after World War III, if that is what their government is now getting ready to fight.

Gastronomic Traditionalists

All of us have been aware of an argument between the Food and Drug Administration and manufacturers of peanut butter. How it is going to be settled—whether FDA will make the manufacturers change their recipes to suit certain critics—is of only casual interest.

But a point of view is being stressed in the argument that is of immediate interest. It is the point of view that something must be wrong with food that isn't exactly the way it used to be at some time in the remote past.

Food traditionalists who talk this way want everything to be the way it was in their great-grandmother's day. They think everything was better then. They deny progress has been made.

They go to the opposite extreme and allege that all changes have been for the worse. To them, everything added to food is an "additive" and in some degree a dilutant.

They are partial to accusations that the taste has been taken out of edibles by changes in their production and preparation. They insist old-time boiled coffee has it all over instant coffee; old-time kitchen-mixed cake was vastly superior to modern cake mixes; frozen food should not be mentioned in the same breath with food in the old days.

Nonsense. Food in the old days was chancy stuff. In summertime there were vegetables aplenty and fresh-killed chicken. Lack of refrigeration made all other meat risky.

In wintertime, there were no vegetables and no fresh meat, either, except salt pork and ham—unless it froze hard enough to keep a beef or hog carcass from spoiling. Peanut butter, when it finally came along, was lumpy and unspreadable. Finally, glory be, manufacturers learned to smooth it out.

Traditionalists never got over the shock, apparently.

Please, No Politicians

By Truman Twill

The auto industry is nervous about the possibility politicians may nib into car design, for the declared purpose of increasing safety.

The rest of us had better be nervous about the possibility, too. If the dizzy-fingers of public payrollees every enter this area of public interest, we can get into more trouble than Mr. McNamara got us into in Viet Nam.

There is only one way to build a completely safe auto. The thing would have to be made with a heavy coating of sponge rubber inside and out to absorb impacts, the impacts themselves would have to be fended off with spears fitted with shock absorbers.

To make doubly sure of the passengers' safety, the auto would have to be fillable with instant gelatin when the spears were rammed into by an oncoming marauder.

These porcupine cars would be impossible to operate, however, so the completely safety-minded would have to stay home — and don't think that's too wild to think about. Pay attention to political proposals for barring autos from prescribed areas in large cities. Cock an ear to planners who say we'd all be better off riding Toonerville trolleys.

This would happen if politicos were given a loose rein and allowed to ride roughshod over the auto industry. They would louse up things the way they louse up everything else.

And why do they louse up everything?

I want my auto to be designed by auto designers, with no politicians looking over their shoulders. I want to have a free choice of the results.

I do not want highways cluttered up with the monstrosities that would come out of auto factories if the car manufacturers had to satisfy politicians instead of customers.

What I want politicians to do — to keep their idle hands out of mischief — is to quit toadying to people who have no right to drive autos because their total incapacity already is a matter of public record.

I want their licenses lifted until they have undergone psychiatric care and retraining. I want their vehicles to be impounded while this is going on so there will be no cheating.

Within the last two days, I have heard a grim story about my wife's uncle and aunt whose new car was mashed into broadside by an 18-year-old punk and demolished. The collision killed the aunt and sent the uncle, already a semi-invalid, into a tailspin that destroyed him two months later. The punk already had proved himself irresponsible and dangerous. He was not insured and financially irresponsible.

Why was he driving? If he'd killed with a gun, he would be sent up on a murder rap. Why was he given a clean shot at two innocent people?

You Can Lean Over Backwards Just So Far

Unions Face Racial Battle

By Victor Riesel

Many a leader of skilled workmen whose tightly closed unions have won a $6 and $7-an-hour wage for them now are singing what they grimly refer to as the St. Louis blues.

Victor Riesel

They're unhappy over the "battle of the Arch" which is going very untriumphantly for the strong construction unions, which have established the world's highest pay rates.

The battle, which has not sparked much publicity outside of St. Louis, has been fought by these almost purely white unions and a tiny unaffiliated, predominantly Negro Congress of Independent Unions (CIU).

It is virtually unknown. But it could be the beginning of a human wave which could rattle the nation's headlines in a few years.

The feud started early in January over the insistence by the Department of the Interior that a St. Louis project become the "showcase" of integrated employment. The project is the construction of a visitors' building under the famed Gateway Arch symbolically leading to the West.

INTERIOR SECRETARY UDALL had insisted that contractors not only call for Negro workers—but make certain that contractors absolutely go out and find them if they were not readily available.

Swift developments after that enveloped the White House, Cabinet members, national labor leaders, and could eventually affect some $35 billion worth of federally assisted projects and operations.

Basically it all revolved around the St. Louis construction unions' refusal, or inability to employ Negro plumbers. The prime contractor turned to a subcontractor who had pacts with the CIU, which sent along Negro pipe handlers.

On Jan. 10 the construction unions took this as a personal insult and "downed tools." All work stopped. In effect, the AFL-CIO unions' chiefs said, okay, let the CIU men do the entire project. Actually only three Negroes were involved.

So the prime contractors, Hoel-Steffen Construction Co., said to the Labor Department: And what do we do now? The company was under penalty pressure to meet deadlines. There was much deliberation. The only action the dedicated Department officials could take was unprecedented.

NEVER BEFORE has the labor movement been hauled into court by the government under a White House directive. Emissaries shuttled between Washington and St. Louis. National construction unions' chiefs put pressure on the locals. But the "downed tools" stayed down.

On Jan. 21 the Stevensonian Willard Wirtz had had enough of this defiance of the White House directive 11246—and what appeared to be the flouting of Titles 6 and 7 of the 1964 Civil Rights law.

From the headquarters of Edward C. Sylvester Jr., director of the little known Office of Federal Contract Compliance of the Labor Department, went the first "referral" of its kind to Nick Katzenbach's Department of Justice. There it was received with considerable melancholia.

Sylvester told Attorney General Katzenbach that the subcontractors' employes are "Negros and are members of a union not affiliated with the AFL-CIO."

THE REFUSAL OF ALL THOSE St. Louis construction unions to cooperate, it was said, was making it impossible for the general contractor to fulfill his contract. Now it was in the attorney general's lap.

"The union leaders there are interfering with the workings of the presidential directive," Sylvester told this columnist. "Now action is up to the Justice Department."

The department moved gingerly. For weeks its legal minds debated whether to move broadly against all the unions or just narrowly against the plumbers outfit.

There was method in their plodding which angered the national Negro organizations. It's true that Justice Department action could set a precedent which would force the labor chiefs to open their unions to tens of thousands of Negro craftsmen. Or if the union chiefs refused, they could eventually wind up in jail and their locals could be replaced by hundreds of CIUs.

At the moment, despite the stirring equal employment resolutions passed by national labor conventions, there are but five Negroes training to be plumbers in 12 major cities (and only 16 colored men apprenticing as electricians, and two in the long, slow process of becoming sheet-metal workers).

So the St. Louis story is but the beginning. Sylvester has asked all U.S. agencies to review the hiring practices on some half a billion dollars worth of federal construction projects there. So it will be for 20 other cities.

Since winter has come, spring can't be far behind with its mass demonstrations.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW

For a healthier community, especially for 2nd and Union St. And a thanks to all the personnel for the Columbiana County Cancer Clinic. It is one of the best things that we have.

And everyone should be proud of our Civil Defense organization here.

It concerns when it practiced on the house on 2nd and Union St. last summer.

There was a window that opened into our property in the back yard. When the Civil Defense used water on the house, it made such a mess and odor that we could not eat a meal half the time in our kitchen, and it stirred up the rats—carriers of disease, as the public health services point out.

I personally want to thank Gov. James A. Rhodes and Fire Marshal George L. Schlatterbeck for taking deep concern in our city in getting the house on 2nd and Union St. down.

Some Senators' Tactics Questioned

Is history repeating itself? Will the very people in public life who are unwittingly giving the impression that they seek "peace at any price" — even by the sacrifice of South Viet Nam — cause the war to be enlarged and thus perhaps bring on a major war in the world?

David Lawrence

The tactics of some members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in trying to give undue emphasis to the criticisms of American policy by holding televised hearings at this time may create abroad an image of irresoluteness and discord.

If ever there were need for unity in all branches of the government and for silence on the part of the exhibitionists and appeasers, inside and outside of Congress, it is today. The critics are arguing that there is a lack of authority to carry out the war measures the American government has undertaken in Viet Nam.

Why should there be any quibbles about the meaning of the resolution adopted by an overwhelming vote of both houses of Congress and proclaimed Aug. 10, 1964, after the attacks on American military forces in Viet Nam? Yet there are those who say it was originally passed for a different purpose and under different circumstances.

THIS IS A MISCHIEVOUS interpretation and could encourage the enemy to believe that the American Congress isn't behind the President now in the Viet Nam War. Here is what the resolution actually says:

"Whereas the United States is assisting the peoples of Southeast Asia to protect their freedom and has no territorial, military or political ambitions in that area, but desires only that these peoples should be left in peace to work out their own destinies in their own way, now therefore, be it

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander in chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression.

"The United States regards as vital to its national interest and to world peace the maintenance of international peace and security in Southeast Asia. Consonant with the Constitution of the United States and the Charter of the United Nations and in accordance with its obligations under the Southeast Asia collective defense treaty, the United States is, therefore, prepared, as the President determines, to take all necessary steps, including the use of armed force, to assist any member or protocol state of the Southeast Asia collective defense treaty requesting assistance in defense of its freedom."

SMALL WONDER that President Johnson, in order to deal with critics, has had to adopt spectacular measures to secure the support of public opinion throughout the world. Mr. Johnson first had to refute the idea — mostly fostered abroad — that America didn't want to negotiate peace. So he sent many ambassadors and emissaries around the world to declare the willingness of the United States to negotiate unconditionally. The enemy, however, still insists that America is not acting in good faith.

Then the President began to face at home the dissenters who wanted to hold extensive hearings in Congress and to carry on a public debate on military strategy that should be kept secret, at least for the time being.

Coincidentally, the President, who had long wished to meet with the premier and other leaders of the Vienamese government without traveling all the way to Viet Nam, decided on a conference at Hawaii. He took along Cabinet officers and top aides.

Not only did the mission afford the President an opportunity to extend moral support to the existing regime in Viet Nam but it was a means of letting the people there know more of America's plans for sociological and financial aid.

MOST IMPORTANT of all, the meeting gave Mr. Johnson a good chance to talk over comprehensively and intimately with the Vietnamese officials just what arrangements for a future peace conference should be and who should participate in it.

The trip enabled the President, moreover, to let the world know that the United States is in earnest in continuing the war in order to achieve its basic objective — the right of a people to maintain their sovereignty unmolested by foreign aggression.

When this is assured, there can be a cease-fire and an honorable peace agreement.

Turning The Leadership Cogs

It is too bad President Johnson won't be visiting with a wider spectrum of Asiatic political leadership than the top officials of South Viet Nam during his visit to Hawaii.

The people he really needs to talk to are the top officials of North Viet Nam, the leaders of the Viet Cong and, of course, the top officials of the Chinese People's Republic.

The President might get somewhere with them. They are the men making the war in Viet Nam. They are the men whose frame of mind in the months ahead will determine whether the United States is going to find itself involved in one of the major wars of all time.

The evidence points to the probability Mr. Johnson wants to talk to the South Vietnamese leaders about South Viet Nam. Even though there is plenty to talk about, none of it could have much bearing on the progress of the fighting or the prospect of becoming embroiled in an Asiatic Armageddon.

It even might be surmised that the reason for a visit with South Viet Nam leadership at this time is to avert another political overthrow there, which would add still further to the impression that the United States is holding up an empty sack there and calling it a government.

Inevitably, Americans are going to remember when President Truman met Gen. MacArthur on Wake Island in October 1950. The subject of their discussion was Korea. Gen MacArthur was full of joy afterward. President Truman was full of praise. He gave the general an Oak Leaf Cluster to show how he felt about him. Everything was ipsy-pipsy in October 1950.

The next April, President Truman relieved Gen. MacArthur of his command for going contrary to presidential orders and persistently demanding an attack on Red China. It was the most sensational collision between a commander-in-chief and a chief commander since President Lincoln fired Gen. George B. McLellan.

Not everything that matters in these affairs meets the eye.

A Real Asset

As Supt. Joseph Walters pointed out in his report, "many of our local people take it for granted."

He was referring to Thompson Park and the expanded facilities it continues to offer.

He quite likely is correct in his assumption. It is typical—not only in relation to parks but in other matters—that "outsiders" are more apt to express appreciation. Those on the scene from day to day have a tendency to take such things for granted.

Regardless, we can assure Mr. Walters that while there may be many who take the park for granted there are many, many others fully appreciative of its beauty, its varied facilities and its place in the community.

A continuance of the present program will make Thompson Park an even greater asset in the future.

Let's Not And Say We Did

Nothing could bring more joy to Mudtown, U.S.A., than hard feeling between Fidel Castro in Cuba and his big brothers in Peking.

A few years back when Castro was saying bad things about his big brothers in Moscow there was joy in Mudtown, too. But mingled with our joy is a gnawing misgiving.

Will the mighty policy makers of our government be able to take a detached point of view about squabbles between Castro and the Communist puppeteers who have been jerking his strings?

Or will they commit the United States to a partisan position in this quarrel, finding merit where no merit exists?

The United States has seemed to believe in recent years that every nation must be on one side or the other — that there is no third position. It has been harsh about neutrality, preferring to believe any government which claims to be neutral is either being hostile to both disputants, or is secretly helping one of them.

Surely in any altercation between Castro and the Chinese Communists, or between quarreling Communists anywhere on earth, the United States can afford to stay on the sidelines.

If it is afraid of setting a precedent that might encourage other governments to assume neutralist positions, the fear may not be well-founded. Other governments, seeing how much trouble the United States gets into by rushing to take sides, have every good reason to stay as far out of trouble as all of them have managed to stay so far in Viet Nam.

History Is Where You Find It

We could wish President Johnson hadn't called skeptics about the undeclared war in Viet Nam "blind to history."

As a one-time school teacher, the President must know the lessons taught by history are rarely absolute, often relative. History is where you look for it and find it, moreover.

The history of the French Republic when it was dealing with insurgents in Indo-China indicates strongly that any Western power which tackles these people in a guerrilla war is undertaking an endless campaign in frustration.

The history of Western powers in general in Asia suggests pointedly that they can march up the hill and down again in trails of blood but eventually will be frustrated by the sheer numbers of their Asiatic opponents. It has happened many times, most recently to the United States when it settled for a truce in Korea. It has happened to the British and the Dutch.

Military history points to the futility of fighting on the wrong terrain. Many militarists think Viet Nam is the wrong terrain against the wrong enemy with the wrong strategy at the wrong time—a war that cannot be won and whose stalemating would damage U.S. prestige in Asia and the rest of the world.

There is one more lesson of history many students of history have learned—that war is not an effectual instrument of national policy. Many Americans reached that conclusion after World War I, when their young men died in vain to make the world safe for democracy. They tried to outlaw war in the 1920s. They tried again after World War II.

They will assuredly try again after World War III, if that is what their government is now getting ready to fight.

Gastronomic Traditionalists

All of us have been aware of an argument between the Food and Drug Administration and manufacturers of peanut butter. How it is going to be settled—whether FDA will make the manufacturers change their recipes to suit certain critics—is of only casual interest.

But a point of view is being stressed in the argument that is of immediate interest. It is the point of view that something must be wrong with food that isn't exactly the way it used to be at some time in the remote past.

Food traditionalists who talk this way want everything to be the way it was in their great-grandmother's day. They think everything was better then. They deny progress has been made.

They go to the opposite extreme and allege that all changes have been for the worse. To them, everything added to food is an "additive" and in some degree a dilutant.

They are partial to accusations that the taste has been taken out of edibles by changes in their production and preparation. They insist old-time boiled coffee has it all over instant coffee; old-time kitchen-mixed cake was vastly superior to modern cake mixes; frozen food should not be mentioned in the same breath with food in the old days.

Nonsense. Food in the old days was chancy stuff. In summertime there were vegetables aplenty and fresh-killed chicken. Lack of refrigeration made all other meat risky.

In wintertime, there were no vegetables and no fresh meat, either, except salt pork and ham—unless it froze hard enough to keep a beef or hog carcass from spoiling. Peanut butter, when it finally came along, was lumpy and unspreadable. Finally, glory be, manufacturers learned to smooth it out.

Traditionalists never got over the shock, apparently.

Please, No Politicians

By Truman Twill

The auto industry is nervous about the possibility politicians may nib into car design, for the declared purpose of increasing safety.

The rest of us had better be nervous about the possibility, too. If the dizzy-fingers of public payrollees every enter this area of public interest, we can get into more trouble than Mr. McNamara got us into in Viet Nam.

There is only one way to build a completely safe auto. The thing would have to be made with a heavy coating of sponge rubber inside and out to absorb impacts, the impacts themselves would have to be fended off with spears fitted with shock absorbers.

To make doubly sure of the passengers' safety, the auto would have to be fillable with instant gelatin when the spears were rammed into by an oncoming marauder.

These porcupine cars would be impossible to operate, however, so the completely safety-minded would have to stay home — and don't think that's too wild to think about. Pay attention to political proposals for barring autos from prescribed areas in large cities. Cock an ear to planners who say we'd all be better off riding Toonerville trolleys.

This would happen if politicos were given a loose rein and allowed to ride roughshod over the auto industry. They would louse up things the way they louse up everything else.

And why do they louse up everything?

I want my auto to be designed by auto designers, with no politicians looking over their shoulders. I want to have a free choice of the results.

I do not want highways cluttered up with the monstrosities that would come out of auto factories if the car manufacturers had to satisfy politicians instead of customers.

What I want politicians to do — to keep their idle hands out of mischief — is to quit toadying to people who have no right to drive autos because their total incapacity already is a matter of public record.

I want their licenses lifted until they have undergone psychiatric care and retraining. I want their vehicles to be impounded while this is going on so there will be no cheating.

Within the last two days, I have heard a grim story about my wife's uncle and aunt whose new car was mashed into broadside by an 18-year-old punk and demolished. The collision killed the aunt and sent the uncle, already a semi-invalid, into a tailspin that destroyed him two months later. The punk already had proved himself irresponsible and dangerous. He was not insured and financially irresponsible.

Why was he driving? If he'd killed with a gun, he would be sent up on a murder rap. Why was he given a clean shot at two innocent people?

You Can Lean Over Backwards Just So Far

Unions Face Racial Battle

By Victor Riesel

Many a leader of skilled workmen whose tightly closed unions have won a $6 and $7-an-hour wage for them now are singing what they grimly refer to as the St. Louis blues.

Victor Riesel

They're unhappy over the "battle of the Arch" which is going very untriumphantly for the strong construction unions, which have established the world's highest pay rates.

The battle, which has not sparked much publicity outside of St. Louis, has been fought by these almost purely white unions and a tiny unaffiliated, predominantly Negro Congress of Independent Unions (CIU).

It is virtually unknown. But it could be the beginning of a human wave which could rattle the nation's headlines in a few years.

The feud started early in January over the insistence by the Department of the Interior that a St. Louis project become the "showcase" of integrated employment. The project is the construction of a visitors' building under the famed Gateway Arch symbolically leading to the West.

INTERIOR SECRETARY UDALL had insisted that contractors not only call for Negro workers—but make certain that contractors absolutely go out and find them if they were not readily available.

Swift developments after that enveloped the White House, Cabinet members, national labor leaders, and could eventually affect some $35 billion worth of federally assisted projects and operations.

Basically it all revolved around the St. Louis construction unions' refusal, or inability to employ Negro plumbers. The prime contractor turned to a subcontractor who had pacts with the CIU, which sent along Negro pipe handlers.

On Jan. 10 the construction unions took this as a personal insult and "downed tools." All work stopped. In effect, the AFL-CIO unions' chiefs said, okay, let the CIU men do the entire project. Actually only three Negroes were involved.

So the prime contractors, Hoel-Steffen Construction Co., said to the Labor Department: And what do we do now? The company was under penalty pressure to meet deadlines. There was much deliberation. The only action the dedicated Department officials could take was unprecedented.

NEVER BEFORE has the labor movement been hauled into court by the government under a White House directive. Emissaries shuttled between Washington and St. Louis. National construction unions' chiefs put pressure on the locals. But the "downed tools" stayed down.

On Jan. 21 the Stevensonian Willard Wirtz had had enough of this defiance of the White House directive 11246—and what appeared to be the flouting of Titles 6 and 7 of the 1964 Civil Rights law.

From the headquarters of Edward C. Sylvester Jr., director of the little known Office of Federal Contract Compliance of the Labor Department, went the first "referral" of its kind to Nick Katzenbach's Department of Justice. There it was received with considerable melancholia.

Sylvester told Attorney General Katzenbach that the subcontractors' employes are "Negros and are members of a union not affiliated with the AFL-CIO."

THE REFUSAL OF ALL THOSE St. Louis construction unions to cooperate, it was said, was making it impossible for the general contractor to fulfill his contract. Now it was in the attorney general's lap.

"The union leaders there are interfering with the workings of the presidential directive," Sylvester told this columnist. "Now action is up to the Justice Department."

The department moved gingerly. For weeks its legal minds debated whether to move broadly against all the unions or just narrowly against the plumbers outfit.

There was method in their plodding which angered the national Negro organizations. It's true that Justice Department action could set a precedent which would force the labor chiefs to open their unions to tens of thousands of Negro craftsmen. Or if the union chiefs refused, they could eventually wind up in jail and their locals could be replaced by hundreds of CIUs.

At the moment, despite the stirring equal employment resolutions passed by national labor conventions, there are but five Negroes training to be plumbers in 12 major cities (and only 16 colored men apprenticing as electricians, and two in the long, slow process of becoming sheet-metal workers).

So the St. Louis story is but the beginning. Sylvester has asked all U.S. agencies to review the hiring practices on some half a billion dollars worth of federal construction projects there. So it will be for 20 other cities.

Since winter has come, spring can't be far behind with its mass demonstrations.

Some Senators' Tactics Questioned

Is history repeating itself? Will the very people in public life who are unwittingly giving the impression that they seek "peace at any price" — even by the sacrifice of South Viet Nam — cause the war to be enlarged and thus perhaps bring on a major war in the world?

The tactics of some members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in trying to give undue emphasis to the criticisms of American policy by holding televised hearings at this time may create abroad an image of irresoluteness and discord.

WEIRTON — Victor Greco of Weirton, ways and means chairman of the Hancock - Brooke Mental Health Society, reported on plans for the annual Mental Health Drive to be conducted in the two counties by the society and Weirton B'nai B'rith Lodge 1658.

Greco reviewed plans for the campaign at a meeting of the society in Weirton General Hospital, with Mrs. Michael Rodak presiding.

Greco announced that the major portion of the proceeds from the Tri - State Hobby Show to be held in Weirton by the Rotary Club in late March will be donated to the society.

The proceeds will be used for the Mental Health Service provided in the hospital by the organization.

The service is available at the hospital every Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. by appointment with Mrs. John L. Sullivan, psychiatric social worker, and on Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. by appointment with Dr. Guy Frisk of Pittsburgh, psychologist.

Board Rejects Request For Union Recognition

The Board of Education Monday night rejected the request of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, to be recognized as the bargaining agent for non - teaching school employes.

It voted unanimously to support the motion made by John R. Woomer and seconded by Samuel W. Brown that the union not be recognized. The motion also barred payroll deduction of union dues.

THE REQUEST for union recognition and dues checkoff was made by John Trimboli of Youngstown, business agent for the union, who said all but one custodian had joined the local, which also represents city employes with the exception of police and firemen.

Board members cited a possible conflict of interest between the union and Civil Service regulations. All custodians are Civil Service employes and the appointments of any regular custodians must be made from lists certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Woomer raised the possibility of a conflict between the union and Civil Service regulations. He also pointed out under the present accounting system payroll deductions for dues would be costly.

Brown recalled that the custodians also belonged to the Ohio Association of Public School Employes. "At no time have they asked to be relieved from OAPSE," he said. "I don't see what good it is going to do anyone to add another organization."

Supt. Paul H. Blair pointed out the board several years ago at the request of the custodians agreed to recognize Civil Service regulations rather than a union.

HE ALSO said there has been no request from members of OAPSE for payroll deductions. "If they had asked, I feel sure it (payroll deduction) would have been granted."

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, Harry D. McConville and Richard Smith, the other board members, offered no comment.

Following the discussion, Woomer offered his motion, but there was a long pause before the second was made by Brown.

The personnel relations policy proposed by Trimboli and submitted to the board provided the administrative staff and the board meet with authorized representatives of the union "for the purpose of considering employes' views and requests with respect to wages, hours and other conditions of employment."

Pontiff Omits Curia Office

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has abolished the Curia office that judges writing for the Roman Catholic Church's index of forbidden books.

The Pope's action did not mean an end to surveillance of books by Church authorities, but Vatican sources said it signified a totally new approach.

The Curia office known as the Section for the Censure of Books was omitted in the listings of the 1966 pontifical yearbook which came out today.

In line with this program, the title of "Supreme Congregation of the Holy Office" was changed in the new pontifical yearbook to "Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith."

By dropping the adjective "supreme" the Pope put the office on the same level with the other congregations in the Curia, the central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

By eliminating the words "Holy Office," he removed a title that evokes for many Protestants bitter historical associations with persecution.

Hamilton Doctor New Director Of MEDICO

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 55-year-old Hamilton surgeon who specializes in bone disorders is the new director of MEDICO, a worldwide medical service made famous by the late Dr. Tom Dooley.

The appointment of Dr. Charles U. Hauser was announced today at New York by Frank L. Goffio, executive director of CARE, the private relief agency that administers MEDICO.

Dr. Hauser, who has served MEDICO programs in five countries, will be in charge of 53 physicians and nurses serving two-year periods in 10 countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America. He also will supervise the work of specialists who treat patients and train local physicians abroad.

The son of a retired physician, Dr. Hauser began practicing medicine at Hamilton in 1964. He helped to found MEDICO programs in Jordan and Nigeria, and also served in Tunisia, Algeria and South Viet Nam, which he has visited twice.

In that war-torn land, the medical situation is especially grave Dr. Hauser said.

"There are 700 doctors in the entire country. However, 500 of the Vietnamese physicians are serving up to 10 years in the armed forces. That leaves 200 doctors to care for a civilian population of 14 million," he explained, adding that volunteer U. S. doctors help to fill the gap.

"I hope that the American public at large will also continue to support us as in years past," Dr. Hauser said of his hopes for MEDICO.

Broad Probe Launched In Texas On Smuggling

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — An international investigation moved ahead today following charges against five El Paso men that they conspired to smuggle planes, tanks, submarines, missiles and other weapons to Latin America.

Federal agents said they had been conducting an investigation for eight months, and it is still under way in parts of the United States, Mexico and other Latin-American countries.

The five men arrested Monday were charged with conspiring to violate the U. S. Neutrality Act and the Export Control Act.

The charges alleged they were to export "100,000 rounds of ammunition, AR18 full automatic rifles, 371M2 full automatic carbines, airplanes, tanks, submarines and guided missiles, without applying for or obtaining a license from the Department of State as required."

The alleged smuggling ring involved sources of supply from various sections of the country including seaports on both coasts, officers said.

The arsenal was to have included weapons, such as the AR18 rifle, which still are in the experimental stage, or developed but not yet delivered to U. S. military forces.

There was no indication of where or how the weapons were to have been obtained, if they had been obtained, were hidden or already delivered.

Joe F. Ray, El Paso customs agent, said he didn't know if contraband was smuggled out of other cities, but said none had been reported leaving El Paso, a West Texas city of 300,000 persons situated on the Mexican border.

Named in the federal warrants were Eugene Michael, 35, a restaurant operator; Peyton Dean, 45, a customs broker; Tom Rogers, 25, associated with a brokerage firm; Johnny Acuna, 22, and Larry Grubb, 22, both students at Texas Western College.

U. S. Commissioner Frederick Morton set bond of $2,500 each for Michael and Dean and $1,000 each for the others. They made no statements. Morton indicated a preliminary hearing would be held within 10 days.

Although no evidence was presented before Morton, government investigators said a plot to smuggle small arms and ammunition to Central America, primarily Panama, involved flying to an airstrip in Mexico where the cargo would be turned over to foreign buyers.

Investigators said the operation was widespread and perhaps included some military personnel.

Group Plans Annual Drive

WEIRTON — Victor Greco of Weirton, ways and means chairman of the Hancock - Brooke Mental Health Society, reported on plans for the annual Mental Health Drive to be conducted in the two counties by the society and Weirton B'nai B'rith Lodge 1658.

Greco reviewed plans for the campaign at a meeting of the society in Weirton General Hospital, with Mrs. Michael Rodak presiding.

City chairmen will be appointed for all communities. Volunteer workers will conduct a door-to-door canvass.

Greco announced that the major portion of the proceeds from the Tri - State Hobby Show to be held in Weirton by the Rotary Club in late March will be donated to the society.

The proceeds will be used for the Mental Health Service provided in the hospital by the organization.

The service is available at the hospital every Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. by appointment with Mrs. John L. Sullivan, psychiatric social worker, and on Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. by appointment with Dr. Guy Frisk of Pittsburgh, psychologist.

Board Rejects Request For Union Recognition

The Board of Education Monday night rejected the request of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, to be recognized as the bargaining agent for non - teaching school employes.

It voted unanimously to support the motion made by John R. Woomer and seconded by Samuel W. Brown that the union not be recognized. The motion also barred payroll deduction of union dues.

THE REQUEST for union recognition and dues checkoff was made by John Trimboli of Youngstown, business agent for the union, who said all but one custodian had joined the local, which also represents city employes with the exception of police and firemen.

Board members cited a possible conflict of interest between the union and Civil Service regulations. All custodians are Civil Service employes and the appointments of any regular custodians must be made from lists certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Woomer raised the possibility of a conflict between the union and Civil Service regulations. He also pointed out under the present accounting system payroll deductions for dues would be costly.

Brown recalled that the custodians also belonged to the Ohio Association of Public School Employes. "At no time have they asked to be relieved from OAPSE," he said. "I don't see what good it is going to do anyone to add another organization."

Supt. Paul H. Blair pointed out the board several years ago at the request of the custodians agreed to recognize Civil Service regulations rather than a union.

HE ALSO said there has been no request from members of OAPSE for payroll deductions. "If they had asked, I feel sure it (payroll deduction) would have been granted."

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, Harry D. McConville and Richard Smith, the other board members, offered no comment.

Following the discussion, Woomer offered his motion, but there was a long pause before the second was made by Brown.

The personnel relations policy proposed by Trimboli and submitted to the board provided the administrative staff and the board meet with authorized representatives of the union "for the purpose of considering employes' views and requests with respect to wages, hours and other conditions of employment."

Pontiff Omits Curia Office

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has abolished the Curia office that judges writing for the Roman Catholic Church's index of forbidden books.

The Pope's action did not mean an end to surveillance of books by Church authorities, but Vatican sources said it signified a totally new approach.

The Curia office known as the Section for the Censure of Books was omitted in the listings of the 1966 pontifical yearbook which came out today.

In line with this program, the title of "Supreme Congregation of the Holy Office" was changed in the new pontifical yearbook to "Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith."

By dropping the adjective "supreme" the Pope put the office on the same level with the other congregations in the Curia, the central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

By eliminating the words "Holy Office," he removed a title that evokes for many Protestants bitter historical associations with persecution.

Hamilton Doctor New Director Of MEDICO

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 55-year-old Hamilton surgeon who specializes in bone disorders is the new director of MEDICO, a worldwide medical service made famous by the late Dr. Tom Dooley.

The appointment of Dr. Charles U. Hauser was announced today at New York by Frank L. Goffio, executive director of CARE, the private relief agency that administers MEDICO.

Dr. Hauser, who has served MEDICO programs in five countries, will be in charge of 53 physicians and nurses serving two-year periods in 10 countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America. He also will supervise the work of specialists who treat patients and train local physicians abroad.

The son of a retired physician, Dr. Hauser began practicing medicine at Hamilton in 1964. He helped to found MEDICO programs in Jordan and Nigeria, and also served in Tunisia, Algeria and South Viet Nam, which he has visited twice.

In that war-torn land, the medical situation is especially grave Dr. Hauser said.

"There are 700 doctors in the entire country. However, 500 of the Vietnamese physicians are serving up to 10 years in the armed forces. That leaves 200 doctors to care for a civilian population of 14 million," he explained, adding that volunteer U. S. doctors help to fill the gap.

"I hope that the American public at large will also continue to support us as in years past," Dr. Hauser said of his hopes for MEDICO.

$10,000 Voted For Work

Vodrey, Street Workers Praised In Snow Cleanup

Council Monday night appropriated $10,000 out of income tax revenue to cover the cost of equipment hired by the city to help remove snow after two weekend storms, then three of the members praised Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and street department workers for the cleanup job.

The $10,000 will be used to reimburse private owners from whom the city hired trucks, high-lifts, a snow blower and other rolling stock to supplement the city's equipment.

The same appropriation measure contains an allocation of $750 which the director will use to purchase a few new parking meters for municipal off - street lots. Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council some of the meters are not working properly and should be replaced.

Based on current costs, the $750 will provide about a dozen meters. The money will be provided from the off - street parking fund, which is built up by funds collected on meters on the lots.

Councilmen Floyd Murray, Robert W. Sample and James Lowe praised the director and the street department for the snow removal work.

"I feel I should come to the defense of the street department in the snow - clearing work," Murray commented. "As chairman of the street committee, I checked on their progress frequently and I feel they did a wonderful job. They took a lot of criticism which I feel was unjustified.

"Nobody who criticized has come up with any constructive ideas, but I have a couple which I feel should be considered," Murray said.

The city should investigate the possibility of installing snow plow blades on its incinerator department trucks, which are not used normally for storm cleanups, he said. The incinerator equipment could be used for snow-clearing at night and the work still would not interfere with regular trash pick-ups in the daytime, he said.

The incinerator department has requested purchase of a new pickup truck, Murray said, adding that he feels the city should investigate the possibility of buying a four-wheel drive model and equipping it with a snow plow. The street department now has two similar trucks, bought in 1965.

"I agree with Murray," Lowe commented. "I want to compliment Mr. Vodrey on the good job he did and the many long hours he spent on the job."

"Lowe said some residents have complained there is no plainly defined sidewalk along Dresden Ave. in the vicinity of the Horn Switch tracks and the walk sometimes is blocked by parked cars. Other pedestrians have complained that an amber blinker on Dresden Ave. at Smith St. does not give persons on foot time to cross the street, he said.

"I want to thank the street department and the director for a job well done on the snow removal," Sample said. "I have seen some big snows in my time and I feel the city did a good job in cleaning up after the recent storms."

cent of their local income tax, which meant they paid four-tenths of 1 per cent here, or a total of 1.4 per cent on each dollar, Hartford said.

"Why has this been overlooked?" Councilman Donna Richards Wilson asked.

Then Sample explained prior attempts to reach a reciprocal understanding with Midland officials.

"It sounds wonderful to me," Councilman Norman Bucher commented. "I move that Council follow through on this and ask the solicitor to check on it."

His motion was passed unanimously.

Pedestrians Warned To Beware Of Icicles

Pedestrians should beware of the "monstrous icicles" hanging from the eaves and downspouts of some buildings as a result of the recent heavy snow storm, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

A person struck by one of the big icicles probably would suffer serious injury, Vodrey warned. The city has no responsibility for removing the big icicles from private property, Vodrey said, but he cautioned property-owners it would be in their own interest to remove the hazards.

Street department workers are continuing to open gutters and sewer drops to help speed the run-off of water formed by melting snow, the director said.

Man Faces Hearing As Car Hits Cruiser

A Wellsville motorist was arrested on two charges stemming from a collision with a police cruiser Monday night at 11:30 in front of the Wellsville City Hall.

Police said Edward McGivern of 543 Broadway has been charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of an accident.

Police said McGivern's car hit the cruiser, which was parked on Main St.

He failed to halt and was picked up a few minutes later in front of his home.

He posted a $150 bond for appearance Monday at 10 a. m. before Mayor William Daugherty.

Of the more than 2,000 popular record albums issued each year in the United States, only about 150 become profitable best sellers. The rest either barely break even or they flop badly.

Officials Ask Right To Buy Curb Meters

Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey asked Council Monday night to enact legislation authorizing the administration to advertise for bids and enter into a contract for purchase of 500 new parking meters.

The new devices would be used primarily to replace over 400 1947 model Dual Parking Meters which still are in service.

The administration sought to purchase 400 new meters in the last biennium, but the move was held up by bickering between the Democratic - controlled Council and the Republican regime of former Mayor Merrill D. Hall. Bids were opened on two occasions, but no contract ever was let.

Citing the frequent malfunctions in the 17-year-old meters, Vodrey told Council "it is an injustice to the public to keep these devices in service when they do not operate properly."

Willshaw commented that the administration rarely gets complaints from motorists who object to paying for parking time. But many complain when they insert coins in meters which then do not function, he said.

Most of the meters now in service were installed in September 1947 at a cost of approximately $32,000.

The mayor and director also asked Council to enact legislation authorizing purchase of a new high - lift for the street department and a snow - blower to be used for storm cleanups.

Willshaw said the street department now has two high-lifts. One is in comparatively good condition, but the other is virtually worn out, he said.

A used snow - blower was demonstrated here last week as part of the city's cleanup after two weekend snow storms. Willshaw said a new snow - blower similar to the type used here would cost approximately $3,600, plus freight from the factory, but he said he believes a used model can be acquired for considerably less.

No Meningitis Threat Seen By Health Board

The death of a 16-year-old youth from spinal meningitis last week today prompted the East Liverpool Health Department to issue a statement declaring there is no outbreak of the disease in the city.

Jack Bonner of the department said he had conferred today with Ohio Department Of Health officials on communicable diseases and said the incubation period for the disease has passed.

Those in immediate contact with the youth have been treated by physicians, he said. Anyone with doubts about possible contact should see their family physician, he added, but explained there is little danger insofar as a spread of the disease is concerned.

Wellsville Council Clarifies Legislation

Council may act on the legislation following a caucus session tonight.

Council is to meet at 7:30 and 8:30 p. m. with two firms on recodification of city ordinances. A Cincinnati firm and another from Virginia will have representatives present.

Hancock Commissioners Act On Bar's Resolution

The Hancock County Court of Commissioners Monday voted 2-1 to discard a Hancock County Bar Association resolution relative to the appointment of commissioners of accounts.

The action followed two special meetings on Jan. 13 and 19 which had been called at the request of the bar association.

Action was postponed on the first occasion because Commissioner William C. Graham, who had moved to appoint four attorneys as accounts commissioners, was ill and the second time because Graham had advised the bar association that "he needed more time to think about it".

The resolution which set forth the system by which accounts commissioners are appointed — four attorneys to serve two - year terms — was drafted by the association in 1959 and officially adopted by the county court in January 1960.

The court did, however, upon a motion by Graham, vote to restrict the terms to one year.

Graham was a court member at the time the resolution was adopted.

According to the resolution, Norman D. Ferrari Jr., Frank A. Pietranton, Vito Cantenaro and Carl Frankovitch, all of Weirton, would have served as commissioners of accounts.

Appointed to serve by the county court at the Jan. 4 reorganizational meeting were Emanuel E. Loucas and Thomas D. Hagg of Weirton and William E. Conklin and Miss Callie Tsapis of Chester.

Casting a dissenting vote yesterday, as he did at the other three sessions, was Jack Evans of New Cumberland.

Vodrey, Street Workers Praised In Snow Cleanup

Council Monday night appropriated $10,000 out of income tax revenue to cover the cost of equipment hired by the city to help remove snow after two weekend storms, then three of the members praised Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and street department workers for the cleanup job.

The $10,000 will be used to reimburse private owners from whom the city hired trucks, high-lifts, a snow blower and other rolling stock to supplement the city's equipment.

The same appropriation measure contains an allocation of $750 which the director will use to purchase a few new parking meters for municipal off - street lots. Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council some of the meters are not working properly and should be replaced.

Based on current costs, the $750 will provide about a dozen meters. The money will be provided from the off - street parking fund, which is built up by funds collected on meters on the lots.

Councilmen Floyd Murray, Robert W. Sample and James Lowe praised the director and the street department for the snow removal work.

"I feel I should come to the defense of the street department in the snow - clearing work," Murray commented. "As chairman of the street committee, I checked on their progress frequently and I feel they did a wonderful job. They took a lot of criticism which I feel was unjustified.

"Nobody who criticized has come up with any constructive ideas, but I have a couple which I feel should be considered," Murray said.

The city should investigate the possibility of installing snow plow blades on its incinerator department trucks, which are not used normally for storm cleanups, he said. The incinerator equipment could be used for snow-clearing at night and the work still would not interfere with regular trash pick-ups in the daytime, he said.

The incinerator department has requested purchase of a new pickup truck, Murray said, adding that he feels the city should investigate the possibility of buying a four-wheel drive model and equipping it with a snow plow. The street department now has two similar trucks, bought in 1965.

"I agree with Murray," Lowe commented. "I want to compliment Mr. Vodrey on the good job he did and the many long hours he spent on the job."

"Lowe said some residents have complained there is no plainly defined sidewalk along Dresden Ave. in the vicinity of the Horn Switch tracks and the walk sometimes is blocked by parked cars. Other pedestrians have complained that an amber blinker on Dresden Ave. at Smith St. does not give persons on foot time to cross the street, he said.

"I want to thank the street department and the director for a job well done on the snow removal," Sample said. "I have seen some big snows in my time and I feel the city did a good job in cleaning up after the recent storms."

Tax

cent of their local income tax, which meant they paid fourtenths of 1 per cent here, or a total of 1.4 per cent on each dollar, Hartford said.

"Why has this been overlooked?" Councilman Donna Richards Wilson asked.

Then Sample explained prior attempts to reach a reciprocal understanding with Midland officials.

"It sounds wonderful to me," Councilman Norman Bucher commented. "I move that Council follow through on this and ask the solicitor to check on it."

His motion was passed unanimously.

Pedestrians Warned To Beware Of Icicles

Pedestrians should beware of the "monstrous icicles" hanging from the eaves and downspouts of some buildings as a result of the recent heavy snow storm, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

A person struck by one of the big icicles probably would suffer serious injury, Vodrey warned. The city has no responsibility for removing the big icicles from private property, Vodrey said, but he cautioned property-owners it would be in their own interest to remove the hazards.

Street department workers are continuing to open gutters and sewer drops to help speed the run-off of water formed by melting snow, the director said.

Man Faces Hearing As Car Hits Cruiser

A Wellsville motorist was arrested on two charges stemming from a collision with a police cruiser Monday night at 11:30 in front of the Wellsville City Hall.

Police said Edward McGivern of 543 Broadway has been charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of an accident.

Police said McGivern's car hit the cruiser, which was parked on Main St.

He failed to halt and was picked up a few minutes later in front of his home.

He posted a $150 bond for appearance Monday at 10 a. m. before Mayor William Daugherty.

Of the more than 2,000 popular record albums issued each year in the United States, only about 150 become profitable best sellers. The rest either barely break even or they flop badly.

Officials Ask Right To Buy Curb Meters

Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey asked Council Monday night to enact legislation authorizing the administration to advertise for bids and enter into a contract for purchase of 500 new parking meters.

The new devices would be used primarily to replace over 400 1947 model Dual Parking Meters which still are in service.

The administration sought to purchase 400 new meters in the last biennium, but the move was held up by bickering between the Democratic - controlled Council and the Republican regime of former Mayor Merrill D. Hall. Bids were opened on two occasions, but no contract ever was let.

Citing the frequent malfunctions in the 17-year-old meters, Vodrey told Council "it is an injustice to the public to keep these devices in service when they do not operate properly."

Willshaw commented that the administration rarely gets complaints from motorists who object to paying for parking time. But many complain when they insert coins in meters which then do not function, he said.

Most of the meters now in service were installed in September 1947 at a cost of approximately $32,000.

The mayor and director also asked Council to enact legislation authorizing purchase of a new high - lift for the street department and a snow - blower to be used for storm cleanups.

Willshaw said the street department now has two high-lifts. One is in comparatively good condition, but the other is virtually worn out, he said.

A used snow - blower was demonstrated here last week as part of the city's cleanup after two weekend snow storms. Willshaw said a new snow - blower similar to the type used here would cost approximately $3,600, plus freight from the factory, but he said he believes a used model can be acquired for considerably less.

Eighty - six of the 132 cases disposed of were tried to court, five resulted in cognovit and default judgments, while 41 were settled or dismissed. There were no cases tried to a jury.

No Meningitis Threat Seen By Health Board

The death of a 16-year-old youth from spinal meningitis last week today prompted the East Liverpool Health Department to issue a statement declaring there is no outbreak of the disease in the city.

Jack Bonner of the department said he had conferred today with Ohio Department Of Health officials on communicable diseases and said the incubation period for the disease has passed.

Those in immediate contact with the youth have been treated by physicians, he said. Anyone with doubts about possible contact should see their family physician, he added, but explained there is little danger insofar as a spread of the disease is concerned.

Wellsville Council Clarifies Legislation

Wellsville Council held a special meeting Monday night to clarify several points on legislation relative to wage increases for the police and fire departments.

Council may act on the legislation following a caucus session tonight.

Council is to meet at 7:30 and 8:30 p. m. with two firms on recodification of city ordinances. A Cincinnati firm and another from Virginia will have representatives present.

Council will hold another caucus session Wednesday night with Earl Nelson, Division 11 engineer for the State Highway Department, to discuss the relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville.

Hancock Commissioners Act On Bar's Resolution

The Hancock County Court of Commissioners Monday voted 2-1 to discard a Hancock County Bar Association resolution relative to the appointment of commissioners of accounts.

The action followed two special meetings on Jan. 13 and 19 which had been called at the request of the bar association.

Action was postponed on the first occasion because Commissioner William C. Graham, who had moved to appoint four attorneys as accounts commissioners, was ill and the second time because Graham had advised the bar association that "he needed more time to think about it".

The resolution which set forth the system by which accounts commissioners are appointed — four attorneys to serve two - year terms — was drafted by the association in 1959 and officially adopted by the county court in January 1960.

The court did, however, upon a motion by Graham, vote to restrict the terms to one year.

Graham was a court member at the time the resolution was adopted.

According to the resolution, Norman D. Ferrari Jr., Frank A. Pietranton, Vito Cantenaro and Carl Frankovitch, all of Weirton, would have served as commissioners of accounts.

Appointed to serve by the county court at the Jan. 4 reorganizational meeting were Emanuel E. Loucas and Thomas D. Hagg of Weirton and William E. Conklin and Miss Callie Tsapis of Chester.

Casting a dissenting vote yesterday, as he did at the other three sessions, was Jack Evans of New Cumberland.

Patty and Diane Hein, 6, of Minerva R.D. 2 were treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which is still investigating, said Hilliard was driving the Minerva School District bus south on County Rd. 403, about a mile north of Chambersburg, when the right front wheel went off onto the snow-covered berm, dragging the bus off the roadway and into a ditch.

The 1955 bus continued along the ditch and struck a culvert, bouncing over the culver which smashed the rear floor boards of the bus, hurling the children in the rear of the vehicle from their seats.

The mishap occurred at 7:45 a. m. and the child was taken to the hospital by her parents. She was a third-grader at the West Elementary School.

Airliner Carrying 37 Hunted In Kashmir

NEW DELHI (AP) — Search planes roared over a Himalayan pass in Kashmir today seeking an Indian Airlines prop-jet plane missing with 37 persons aboard.

The twin-engine Fokker aircraft disappeared Monday on a 160-mile flight from Srinagar, the Kashmiri capital, south to Jammu. It was approaching the 10,000-foot Banihal pass when radio contact was lost.

It was the second mishap involving an Indian airliner in two weeks. On Jan. 24 an Air India Boeing 707 jet crashed in the French Alps and all 117 aboard were killed. Both Indian Airlines and Air India are controlled by the government.

Assembly Eyes Own Redistricting Plan

HARRISBURG (AP)—An attempt to have the General Assembly write its own reapportionment plan to replace the one dictated by the state Supreme Court is underway.

Senate Democrats and Republicans agreed Monday to have a joint House-Senate conference committee meet to determine what course to follow.

No date was set for a meeting but five of the six were scheduled to meet with Gov. Scranton today on Congressional reapportionment.

The Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston has been awarded a grant for its Partnership Teaching Program which will seek to pair two women who will work part time to fill one full-time position.

earmarked for the Board of Public Works.

The House later inserted its own budget as an amendment to the Senate-proposed bill, and passed it, 97-0 — sending the bill back to the Senate.

In other business Monday, a proposed constitutional amendment to make it easier for counties to vote school bond issues or higher property taxes for schools won House approval with only two votes to spare. The 69-30 passage came after an hour of debate as two-thirds approval was required.

Basically, the amendment would lower from 60 per cent to a simple majority the margin required for approval in county elections on school bond issues or excess property tax levies for schools.

The Senate passed the amendment earlier in broader form which would lower the margin in all local elections on bond issues and excess levies.

The House - approved constitutional amendment to increase legislators' pay and lengthen the even - year legislative sessions was revised by the Senate and moved up to passage stage today.

Bills to permit local health departments to operate birth control clinics with state aid and supervision, and to establish minimum wages-and-hours, both hit snags in the House. Each was delayed one day.

Airliner Carrying 37 Hunted In Kashmir

NEW DELHI (AP) — Search planes roared over a Himalayan pass in Kashmir today seeking an Indian Airlines prop-jet plane missing with 37 persons aboard.

The twin-engine Fokker aircraft disappeared Monday on a 160-mile flight from Srinagar, the Kashmiri capital, south to Jammu. It was approaching the 10,000-foot Banihal pass when radio contact was lost.

Assembly Eyes Own Redistricting Plan

earmarked for the Board of Public Works.

The House later inserted its own budget as an amendment to the Senate-proposed bill, and passed it, 97-0 — sending the bill back to the Senate.

In other business Monday, a proposed constitutional amendment to make it easier for counties to vote school bond issues or higher property taxes for schools won House approval with only two votes to spare. The 69-30 passage came after an hour of debate as two-thirds approval was required.

Basically, the amendment would lower from 60 per cent to a simple majority the margin required for approval in county elections on school bond issues or excess property tax levies for schools.

The Senate passed the amendment earlier in broader form which would lower the margin in all local elections on bond issues and excess levies.

The House - approved constitutional amendment to increase legislators' pay and lengthen the even - year legislative sessions was revised by the Senate and moved up to passage stage today.

Bills to permit local health departments to operate birth control clinics with state aid and supervision, and to establish minimum wages-and-hours, both hit snags in the House. Each was delayed one day.

In Council Session

Revisions Slated In Traffic Rules

Acting on suggestions from Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman of the street committee, Council Monday night approved three changes in East Liverpool traffic and parking regulations. They follow:

A half - hour limit on parking on the south side of College St. from E. 4th St. to Pleasant Alley to help eliminate congestion near the new office of the Ohio State Employment Service.

A ban on parking on both sides of West Alley from W. 5th St. to Church Ln. in the vicinity of City Hospital and a new nursing home. Murray said the area now is badly congested and parked cars might interfere with fire trucks or ambulances answering emergency calls.

MURRAY pointed out that Council previously agreed informally on a request to close a section of Farmers Alley south of E. 3rd St., in the vicinity of the new Inn-City Motel. He said Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper will confer with the motel owners on the details.

The committee also has approved a request for vacation of Forbes St. between Oakwood Ave. and Ceramic St., Pleasant Heights, provided the city retains the right to maintain and service sewage and water lines in the alley, Murray said.

Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson said she has received requests for a parking ban on Sugar Alley between E. 4th and E. 5th Sts. Councilman Robert W. Sample, citing a recent supplement to the City Code, showed that the ban already is in effect.

Council referred to the finance committee a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking a raise from $1.42 to $1.66 hourly in the pay for a temporary clerk in the water department. Another letter from the same department asked that the clerical post be made termanent, with the title "assistant clerk - stenographer" and a pay rate of $328 monthly. It was referred to the ordinance committee.

Council referred to the claims committee a letter from the utilities board advising it had rejected a bill for $213 filed by Irene Gibb and Agnes McSwegin of 1514 Allison St. The board said the claim was investigated by Charles Huddlestun, sewage superintendent.

Another letter from the utilities board said it recommends payment of a bill for $117 filed by John Melvin of 705 Orchard Grove Ave. It also was referred to the claims committee.

The same committee was given a $20 bill from James R. Ferguson of 339 Garfield St. who alleged his parked car was hit by a city fire truck Feb. 1 in Sutton Alley.

IN ANOTHER letter, the utilities board asked a revision of funds allocated to the sewage department in the temporary appropriation in early January. It said it requested $7,600 but got only $2,000 for operation supplies and equipment; sought $6,250 but got only $2,320 for wages in sewage cleaning and asked $800 but got nothing, for care of lands and buildings. The letter was referred to the finance committee.

Council referred to the planning committee a letter from Capt. Robert L. Bosh of the Salvation Army explaining that the group's property at 109-111 W. 3rd St. is for sale. He said he thought the city might be interested in the site for a new parking lot.

The finance committee was given the 1966 budget request from the Health Board. It asked $18,725 for general administration and $25,215 for the sanitary fund.

Council received and filed the annual report of the Civil Service Commission. It showed the commission handled 103 test applications, in which 70 scored passing grades, 29 failed and four did not appear for the exams. The commission said it spent $1,660 of its $1,850 appropriation. It had receipts of $103 from examination fees.

Dennis Smith, Civil Defense director, appeared in a caucus session to request a $40 appropriation for a trip to Columbus next week to confer with state officials. He said the $40 also would cover the expenses of Kenneth Myers, deputy CD director.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Asst. Fire Chief James Pelley also appeared in the caucus to explain a survey due to open today looking to replacement of the fire department's old callbox system.

Raymond Morrison of Harvey Ave. complained to Council he has been ticketed frequently for parking on Myrtle St., where a two - hour parking limit is in effect. Murray promised an investigation and advised Morrison to park his auto somewhere else in the meantime.

MRS. WILSON asked the members if they were ready to act on proposed changes suggested several weeks ago by her rules committee. They included a requirement that a formal agenda be prepared for each Council meeting and that persons wishing to speak to Council should give written notice in advance.

Duffy said he does not favor the proposal calling for a written request to appear before Council. At Sample's suggestion, action on the proposals was delayed until the Feb. 21 meeting to allow Council further time to study them.

Vodrey asked Council to consider enacting legislation authorizing the administration to advertise for bids for oil to lay dust on streets in summer time.

The procedure must be started well in advance so the work can be outlined and contracts can be let before summer arrives, he said. Vodrey said 55,000 gallons of oil were used in the program for unsurfaced streets last summer.

Duffy said he has received complaints of lack of heat in the city dog pound, a converted brick garage at the sewage plant in West End. He said only $20 to $30 would be required to install a gas line to provide heat.

At Sample's suggestion, the appropriation for the gas line was referred to the finance committee.

REPORTING for the claims committee, James Lowe said it has approved a $455 claim from Kenneth Kibler of 2409 St. Clair Ave. and a $165 bill from Milton Kittle of 1038 Edgewood Ave. The committee rejected a claim from George Simms of 2026 Ohio Ave. and agreed to pay $43 of a $73 bill filed by Bruce Kelley of 3242 St. Clair Ave., he said.

Rodney Stull of Bank St., acting line foreman in the water department, complained to Council that salaried employes as well as hourly - rated workers should have been included in recent legislation granting longevity pay. He said about 25 salaried employes in the water and sewage departments feel "cheated."

At Commissioners' Meeting

Fund Of $75,000 Sought For Hancock Bookmobile

William Myers and Mrs. Floyd Grimes, Hancock County library officials, Monday requested that the County Court of Commissioners include $7,500 in the budget for maintenance of the Hancock County Bookmobile.

Myers and Mrs. Grimes, both of Weirton, reported on the operation of the Bookmobile, stating that the "library on wheels" now has a total circulation of 35,409, with 985 registered members.

MRS. GRIMES told the commissioners that the unit, originally placed in operation through state and federal funds, has been an "astounding success," bringing more service to rural areas than any other unit of its kind in West Virginia.

The Bookmobile, which stocks a total of 9,712 books, 2,000 of which were donated by county residents, was purchased for $8,000. The amount of $22,000 was initially allotted for the purchase of books.

Mrs. Grimes advised the court that no more state or federal aid will be available and that many of the books need replaced. Also, she added, maintenance costs have risen and a raise in pay for the driver was recommended.

Myers advised the court that approximately 400 new books could be purchased for $1,200.

The court voted to table the matter until the 1967 budget is mapped out.

IN OTHER action yesterday, the county court approved the appointment of Helen Fouty of Weirton, wife of Deputy Roy Fouty, to a post in the tax office.

She replaces Martha Cullen of Weirton, who resigned Jan. 31. Mrs. Fouty will receive a salary of $240 a month.

The court also voted to enter into an agreement with the Motorola Communications and Electronics Co. of Fairlawn, N. J., for the maintenance and servicing of radios of the sheriff's department.

The servicing will be done by George Evans of Weirton at a cost of $50 a month on a yearly contract basis.

The Hancock Courier Printing Co. of New Cumberland was awarded a bid in the amount of $1,850 for the printing of tax tickets.

The court voted to rent, on a monthly basis, a photocopy machine from the Xerox Co. of Pittsburgh. The monthly rate will be $32.50.

Present at yesterday's meeting were James Finley of Weirton, court president; William C. Graham of Chester; Jack Evans of New Cumberland; Sheriff Joe Rodak; George Konchar, county clerk, and Mrs. Mary Stewart, court clerk.

Director For TV Education Resigns In Hancock County

The Hancock County Board of Education Monday night accepted the resignation of J. Edward Penn of Weirton, director of educational television and audio - visual aids in Hancock County schools, during a meeting at the board offices in New Cumberland.

Penn has accepted a similar position with Delaware University.

Floyd L. Stead of Elm Grove, W. Va., was employed as a teacher for Oak Glen High School. He will teach Biology, General Science and English.

For the Oak Glen band to participate in a festival at Cameron, W. Va., on April 22 and the area band festival at Charleston May 6 and 7; for a junior male student to attend the World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati March 18 and 19.

Harry West to attend the Key Club Convention at Ogleby Park in Wheeling on April 1 and 2; Charles Morris to accompany students to the Forensic League meeting in Morgantown March 31 and April 1.

Vincent Monseau to attend the state wrestling tournament at Morgantown Feb. 25 and for James Burracchio to attend the Region V Music Meeting at West Liberty State College next Tuesday.

Permission also was granted the Weir High band to participate in a solo and ensemble contest at West Liberty State College next Saturday and for the Oak Glen band to take part in Decoration Day ceremonies sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars May 30.

It was announced that the Hancock County school system has been awarded a plaque by the "Save the Children Federation" in recognition of contributions of used clothing sent by students to needy children in underprivileged areas of the United States and foreign countries.

Additional Interest Slated On Bonds Under Board Step

The Board of Education will receive an additional 1 per cent interest on $950,000 worth of bonds issued for the school building program, Samuel W. Brown, vice president and chairman of the finance committee, advised members Monday night.

Brown said the committee had to act quickly to convert treasury notes now paying 3⅞ per cent to a new issue redeemable in 1967 paying 4⅞ per cent.

The committee decided not to invest another $1,140,000 in notes paying 5 per cent interest since they are not due until 1970 and the money will be needed for the building program.

Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, reported that $111,000 received so far in interest on the $3,380,000 bond issue has been invested in savings certificates.

No further discussion was held on the building program.

Plans for the new senior high school and North Side elementary building are being completed by Robert F. Beatty, architect, for submission to the State Department of Education for approval.

Board members are hopeful that advertising for bids for construction of the high school and North Side, East End and LaCroft elementary schools will be started early in March and that the bid opening can be held some time in April.

Bids for the East End and LaCroft buildings were opened last October, but were rejected on orders of state officials because they exceeded the state's construction estimates by $261,029. The low bids totaled $1,360,814.

Former Auditor Dies

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Joseph N. Dell, 73, former Seneca County auditor, died here Monday. He was auditor for eight years prior to his retirement in 1963, and had been a deputy auditor for many years.

Briggs Seeks Probation In Choking Case

A Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon Monday found a Wellsville youth guilty of assault with intent to kill in a Nov. 28 case.

The youth, Leslie Hubert Briggs, 18, of Aten Ave., waived a motion for a new trial and requested probation from Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who has ordered an investigation.

Briggs and Miss Donna Sue Cross, 19, of Hillcrest Ave., Wellsville, had been engaged until she broke off the engagement early in November, testimony disclosed. Briggs testified that the two of them were parked in her car along Route 39 on Nov. 28 when he started choking her in an effort to frighten her.

The youth said he then changed his mind and halted the struggle.

Later that evening, the two were involved in a minor automobile accident and were taken to East Liverpool City Hospital, where a highway patrolman noticed bruise marks on Miss Cross' neck. Briggs testified that he had called the Wellsville Police Department and told them what he had done.

Briggs pleaded not guilty at arraignment in January and was under a $2,000 bond. The bond is being continued pending the probation investigation.

In Council Session

Revisions Slated In Traffic Rules

Acting on suggestions from Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman of the street committee, Council Monday night approved three changes in East Liverpool traffic and parking regulations. They follow:

A half - hour limit on parking on the south side of College St. from E. 4th St. to Pleasant Alley to help eliminate congestion near the new office of the Ohio State Employment Service.

A ban on parking on both sides of West Alley from W. 5th St. to Church Ln. in the vicinity of City Hospital and a new nursing home. Murray said the area now is badly congested and parked cars might interfere with fire trucks or ambulances answering emergency calls.

MURRAY pointed out that Council previously agreed informally on a request to close a section of Farmers Alley south of E. 3rd St., in the vicinity of the new Inn-City Motel. He said Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper will confer with the motel owners on the details.

The committee also has approved a request for vacation of Forbes St. between Oakwood Ave. and Ceramic St., Pleasant Heights, provided the city retains the right to maintain and service sewage and water lines in the alley, Murray said.

Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson said she has received requests for a parking ban on Sugar Alley between E. 4th and E. 5th Sts. Councilman Robert W. Sample, citing a recent supplement to the City Code, showed that the ban already is in effect.

Council referred to the finance committee a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking a raise from $1.42 to $1.66 hourly in the pay for a temporary clerk in the water department. Another letter from the same department asked that the clerical post be made termanent, with the title "assistant clerk - stenographer" and a pay rate of $328 monthly. It was referred to the ordinance committee.

Council referred to the claims committee a letter from the utilities board advising it had rejected a bill for $213 filed by Irene Gibb and Agnes McSwegin of 1514 Allison St. The board said the claim was investigated by Charles Huddlestun, sewage superintendent.

Another letter from the utilities board said it recommends payment of a bill for $117 filed by John Melvin of 705 Orchard Grove Ave. It also was referred to the claims committee.

The same committee was given a $20 bill from James R. Ferguson of 339 Garfield St. who alleged his parked car was hit by a city fire truck Feb. 1 in Sutton Alley.

IN ANOTHER letter, the utilities board asked a revision of funds allocated to the sewage department in the temporary appropriation in early January. It said it requested $7,600 but got only $2,000 for operation supplies and equipment; sought $6,250 but got only $2,320 for wages in sewage cleaning and asked $800 but got nothing, for care of lands and buildings. The letter was referred to the finance committee.

Council referred to the planning committee a letter from Capt. Robert L. Bosh of the Salvation Army explaining that the group's property at 109-111 W. 3rd St. is for sale. He said he thought the city might be interested in the site for a new parking lot.

The finance committee was given the 1966 budget request from the Health Board. It asked $18,725 for general administration and $25,215 for the sanitary fund.

Council received and filed the annual report of the Civil Service Commission. It showed the commission handled 103 test applications, in which 70 scored passing grades, 29 failed and four did not appear for the exams. The commission said it spent $1,660 of its $1,850 appropriation. It had receipts of $103 from examination fees.

Dennis Smith, Civil Defense director, appeared in a caucus session to request a $40 appropriation for a trip to Columbus next week to confer with state officials. He said the $40 also would cover the expenses of Kenneth Myers, deputy CD director.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Asst. Fire Chief James Pelley also appeared in the caucus to explain a survey due to open today looking to replacement of the fire department's old callbox system.

Raymond Morrison of Harvey Ave. complained to Council he has been ticketed frequently for parking on Myrtle St., where a two - hour parking limit is in effect. Murray promised an investigation and advised Morrison to park his auto somewhere else in the meantime.

MRS. WILSON asked the members if they were ready to act on proposed changes suggested several weeks ago by her rules committee. They included a requirement that a formal agenda be prepared for each Council meeting and that persons wishing to speak to Council should give written notice in advance.

Duffy said he does not favor the proposal calling for a written request to appear before Council. At Sample's suggestion, action on the proposals was delayed until the Feb. 21 meeting to allow Council further time to study them.

Vodrey asked Council to consider enacting legislation authorizing the administration to advertise for bids for oil to lay dust on streets in summer time.

The procedure must be started well in advance so the work can be outlined and contracts can be let before summer arrives, he said. Vodrey said 55,000 gallons of oil were used in the program for unsurfaced streets last summer.

Duffy said he has received complaints of lack of heat in the city dog pound, a converted brick garage at the sewage plant in West End. He said only $20 to $30 would be required to install a gas line to provide heat.

At Sample's suggestion, the appropriation for the gas line was referred to the finance committee.

REPORTING for the claims committee, James Lowe said it has approved a $455 claim from Kenneth Kibler of 2409 St. Clair Ave. and a $165 bill from Milton Kittle of 1038 Edgewood Ave. The committee rejected a claim from George Simms of 2026 Ohio Ave. and agreed to pay $43 of a $73 bill filed by Bruce Kelley of 3242 St. Clair Ave., he said.

Rodney Stull of Bank St., acting line foreman in the water department, complained to Council that salaried employes as well as hourly - rated workers should have been included in recent legislation granting longevity pay. He said about 25 salaried employes in the water and sewage departments feel "cheated."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I found that placing a strip of adhesive-backed paper across the bottom of a worn window shade made the shade look better than before.

Just cut the strip the width of the shade, and stick it on—no bother. Besides, now this strip may be wiped off easily when it becomes soiled.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that an empty, clean Worcestershire sauce bottle makes a dandy vinegar dispenser for table use?

With the label washed off, it is neat, compact, and so serviceable.

ELSIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I ripped out just enough stitching at the top of the label that is sewn into my coat, to insert a dime.

Should my purse get lost, or the occasion arise when I have no correct change, at least I can make a phone call.

DEAR HELOISE: There was a time when I used to keep my sterling silverware hidden away in tarnish-proof bags for twice-a-year company dinners, till I smartened up and realized the sterling is made to last a lifetime and comes out lovelier with each washing.

So now I reverse the situation by packing my odd stainless steel and silverplate items in plastic bags for emergency use, and my family enjoys the luxury of our sterling every day of the week.

MRS. G. H.

DEAR HELOISE: After washing my white cloth gloves, I fasten them to a coat hanger, then hook the hanger on the clothes line in the sun.

I find they stay clean much longer, and the starch gives them body.

LORAINE HEALY.

DEAR HELOISE: My baby outgrew his playpen, and insisted on crawling all day.

I found the best way to keep him out of trouble was to get a portable, folding wooden fence, and stretch it across his bedroom door, baby-proofing his room and letting him play in there with all of his toys.

Now he is able to crawl, feels free with so much space all to himself, and stays happy long enough for me to get my work done!

K.E.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for watering small plants. Use an empty plastic ketchup or mustard squeeze type container partly filled with water. As the water squirts in a stream, there is no chance of overflowing or drowning the plant.

WILLIE SOPER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's another idea for your nylon net, especially leftover scraps:

When sewing a stuffed animal (leaving an opening), stuff it with nylon net . . . then, of course, sew up the rest of the animal.

By using nylon net, the animals wash easier and dry faster and s-o-o-o light, even the tiny tot can pick them up with ease.

They also hold their shape beautifully, and do not get lumpy.

MRS. JOHN MIKTUK.

DEAR HELOISE: When you mop a floor, and after it dries you notice a film that dulls the luster on your linoleum, or whatever type you have, pour about a cup of vinegar in a pail of water and go over the floor again.

You'd be surprised how nicely the floor will shine.

A READER.

HELOISE.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

What Shape Are You In?

Ida Jean Kain

What is your posture doing for you? From the posture habits you practice now you can predict whether your future holds aches and ailments or strength and streamlines. Insidiously, poor posture may feel right simply because it is habitual. But out-of-kilter posture puts strain on joints and ligaments. Naturally, you tire easily. Good posture is "self-supporting" and requires a minimum outlay of energy.

WHAT SHAPE are you in? While the bones seem fixed, the framework of the body can change shape. Commonly - used expressions such as "bent with the years," or "bowed down with age" confuse cause and effect. Such signs of age are caused by years of bending. The slump is a common posture fault, particularly for desk workers.

Take an objective view. Place a straight chair by a mirror, so that you can take a side-view. Bend forward, as if bending over a typewriter or a desk. Are you rounding your upper back or keeping it straight? Posture grows old from the shoulder blades up. With many years of bending, a rounded upper back becomes fixed, and a positive hump permanent.

If the attempt to straighten your shoulders and backbone is painful, it will pay you to seek the help of an orthopedic specialist. It may not be too late to coax shoulders back in lines and strengthen the right muscles with proper exercises, supervised for a time.

Using palms of hands, place one on back of hips and one on the lower abdomen. Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Moral Courage Shaped In Early Years

Occasionally we have discussed physical courage in the child. We have considered the youngster who readily cries over every little bump. We have often quoted from mothers their account of the youngster from five to twelve who won't stand up in self - defense, even against another child smaller or younger than himself. We have discussed the child who prefers to play with children younger than himself; of the child who, when not having his own way with other children, will run off crying or calling them ugly names or throwing sticks and stones at them or attacking them from ambush.

Today let us consider the child weak in moral courage, the child who does or avoids doing many things he knows he should because he fears what other children will do or say to him.

MOST youngsters five, nine or sixteen, who may find it easy while alone to do right, discover it very hard to do right while with one or more other children. They also find it easier to do right while in the presence of their parents or other adults than when alone.

Even we parents may do or keep from doing what we know is right for fear of what other adults may think or say of us.

Right here is perhaps, our greatest problem as parents in cultivating moral courage in our children. We have certain standards for our children which are higher than the standards of the playmates or pals have. Some of these standards may be very desirable and rather easily enforceable, especially with youngsters below the teens.

For example, automatically we may expect the child five, nine or twelve to make a beeline for the house when the lights appear. Suppose this child complainingly informs us that "the other kids don't have to do this."

OR SUPPOSE we expect our teen-agers on going out at night to be home at a certain reasonably early hour; or that they practically never may be out on nights preceding a school day; or that our children of school age have certain regular chores they are expected to do.

But suppose these youngsters inform us that their playmates and pals don't have such restrictions or requirements. Our moral courage is being tested then. Many a parent will succomb wholly or relax considerably, afraid to be different from other parents.

Children discovering this moral cowardice in their parents often win their way. But their winning may not be the greatest harm from such parental cowardice. It sets a pattern for them as individuals.

How are our children going to stick by what they know is right when away from home? How are they going to acquire moral courage in themselves?

OF COURSE, an occasional parent with lofty standards for the child may attempt the unreasonable, even the impossible. But for one who does so, there probably are a hundred who just don't have the intestinal fortitude to hold the growing youngster up to reasonable standards.

Most parents seem to be scared of their children, when they really have resources for controlling their behavior far beyond what they ever have supposed they have.

Of course, some parents of children from ten to sixteen may have relaxed so fast in control of their youngsters during their earlier years as not to find it easy, practicable, or even possible to regain reasonable control of them.

Wiser parents begin with the toddler to teach him the unambiguous meaning of NO and do not relax thereafter too rapidly.

St. Clair Ave. Assessments Set Officially

Residents of outer St. Clair Ave. will have until about March 9 to pay in cash the $10-a-foot assessments levied against them officially Monday night by Council as their share of a $789,000 project in which the stretch was rebuilt into three lanes of reinforced concrete.

The assessments will total $144,484, the legislation provides. It was enacted unanimously and without comment.

The ordinance provides the property owners may make the cash payments within 30 days after enactment of the legislation at the office of City Treasurer Bert A. Dawson.

Those unpaid after the deadline will be certified to County Auditor Kenneth Bell at Lisbon to be collected in 10 annual installments on the tax duplicate, plus interest, the legislation provides. A similar system is used in payment of all special assessments for street and sewer improvements.

In addition to the funds collected from the property owners, the city will provide $203,630 out of its own revenue to help make up its $348,393 share of the cost of the work.

Fifty per cent of the cost was borne by the federal government after it made St. Clair Ave. part of the federal aid secondary system of highways. The contract was administered by the State Highway Department, but the state made no direct contribution toward the cost.

About three years ago, persons representing the bulk of the frontage along St. Clair signed a petition agreeing to pay the $10-a-foot assessment. The improvement stretches from Princeton Ave. to the north city limits. In addition to the new paving, it includes a complete storm drainage system.

The work began in mid-1964 and was completed in 1965.

Democrats See Way Clear For Special Session

HARRISBURG (AP) — Democratic legislative leaders expressed confidence today that the way is clear for Gov. Scranton to call a special session to consider making the University of Pittsburgh state related.

Pitt officials, including Dr. David Kurtzman, acting chancellor, and Gwilym Price, chairman of the board of trustees, met here Monday night with leaders of both parties from the state House and Senate.

"It would seem that university officials now have satisfied the governor's requirements removing any objections he might have in calling a special session on this issue," House Majority Leader Joshua Eilberg, D-Philadelphia, said.

"I don't see how the governor now can stand in the way of the University of Pittsburgh becoming a state-related university," Senate Minority Leader John H. Devlin, D-Allegheny, said.

There was no immediate comment from Republicans who attended the meeting.

'Friends' Get Woman's $10

An East Liverpool woman complained to police early today that $10 was stolen from her home by two "friends" who had offered to help her fix a faulty water faucet.

Joyce Morrow of 760 Woodlawn Ave. told officers she had been having trouble with a water faucet and two male friends went to her house to help her repair it. She said she left her home on an errand about 9:30 p. m. Monday and when she returned an hour later her two "friends" were gone and so was $10 from a purse in a diningroom cabinet.

It was one of four minor theft and vandalism incidents reported to police overnight.

Dominic Urso of 1735 Orchard St. told police a hubcap was stolen from his 1963 model car between 2:25 and 4:45 p. m. Monday while it was parked on a lot at the A. & P. Market on Walnut St.

Donald Brookes of Sprucevale Rd. told officers tar was thrown or splashed accidentally on his 1965 model auto while it was parked at E. 3rd St. and Broadway between 1 and 2 p. m. Monday. Police said it could be a case of vandalism or an accident. The black material, sprinkled over much of the car's finish, appeared to be roofing tar, police said.

John Fitch of 578 Mulberry St. told officers a vandal hurled a snowball that broke a 2-x-3-foot window at his home about 8:25 p. m. Monday.

Sgt. Rizzo said the trip will provide an opportunity for applicants to become acquainted with a patrol officer and see firsthand the operation of an officer in a patrol car.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I found that placing a strip of adhesive-backed paper across the bottom of a worn window shade made the shade look better than before.

Just cut the strip the width of the shade, and stick it on—no bother. Besides, now this strip may be wiped off easily when it becomes soiled.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that an empty, clean Worcestershire sauce bottle makes a dandy vinegar dispenser for table use?

With the label washed off, it is neat, compact, and so serviceable.

ELSIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I ripped out just enough stitching at the top of the label that is sewn into my coat, to insert a dime.

Should my purse get lost, or the occasion arise when I have no correct change, at least I can make a phone call.

DEAR HELOISE: There was a time when I used to keep my sterling silverware hidden away in tarnish-proof bags for twice-a-year company dinners, till I smartened up and realized the sterling is made to last a lifetime and comes out lovelier with each washing.

So now I reverse the situation by packing my odd stainless steel and silverplate items in plastic bags for emergency use, and my family enjoys the luxury of our sterling every day of the week.

MRS. G. H.

DEAR HELOISE: After washing my white cloth gloves, I fasten them to a coat hanger, then hook the hanger on the clothes line in the sun.

I find they stay clean much longer, and the starch gives them body.

LORAINE HEALY.

DEAR HELOISE: My baby outgrew his playpen, and insisted on crawling all day.

I found the best way to keep him out of trouble was to get a portable, folding wooden fence, and stretch it across his bedroom door, baby-proofing his room and letting him play in there with all of his toys.

Now he is able to crawl, feels free with so much space all to himself, and stays happy long enough for me to get my work done!

K.E.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for watering small plants.

Use an empty plastic ketchup or mustard squeeze type container partly filled with water. As the water squirts in a stream, there is no chance of overflowing or drowning the plant.

WILLIE SOPER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's another idea for your nylon net, especially leftover scraps:

When sewing a stuffed animal (leaving an opening), stuff it with nylon net . . . then, of course, sew up the rest of the animal.

By using nylon net, the animals wash easier and dry faster and s-o-o-o light, even the tiny tot can pick them up with ease.

They also hold their shape beautifully, and do not get lumpy.

MRS. JOHN MIKTUK.

DEAR HELOISE: When you mop a floor, and after it dries you notice a film that dulls the luster on your linoleum, or whatever type you have, pour about a cup of vinegar in a pail of water and go over the floor again.

You'd be surprised how nicely the floor will shine.

A READER.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

What Shape Are You In?

Ida Jean Kain

What is your posture doing for you? From the posture habits you practice now you can predict whether your future holds aches and ailments or strength and streamlines. Insidiously, poor posture may feel right simply because it is habitual. But out-of-kilter posture puts strain on joints and ligaments. Naturally, you tire easily. Good posture is "self-supporting" and requires a minimum outlay of energy.

WHAT SHAPE are you in? While the bones seem fixed, the framework of the body can change shape. Commonly - used expressions such as "bent with the years," or "bowed down with age" confuse cause and effect. Such signs of age are caused by years of bending. The slump is a common posture fault, particularly for desk workers.

Take an objective view. Place a straight chair by a mirror, so that you can take a side-view. Bend forward, as if bending over a typewriter or a desk. Are you rounding your upper back or keeping it straight? Posture grows old from the shoulder blades up. With many years of bending, a rounded upper back becomes fixed, and a positive hump permanent.

If the attempt to straighten your shoulders and backbone is painful, it will pay you to seek the help of an orthopedic specialist. It may not be too late to coax shoulders back in lines and strengthen the right muscles with proper exercises, supervised for a time.

Using palms of hands, place one on back of hips and one on the lower abdomen. Push down on the hips, contracting with hip muscles; push up forcible with the palm on abdomen and contract strongly with the brace of abdominal muscles. Note the difference. Friends, if you will practice good posture in the prime of your life — in the middle years — your posture need never grow old, even though you live to be 100.

2 Teachers Here Set Retirement

The retirement of two veteran teachers at the end of the present term were approved Monday night when the Board of Education accepted their resignations.

They are Mrs. Minnie K. Gillespie, a third-grade teacher at Pleasant Heights, and Blake E. Boyd, high school machine shop and metal shop instructor.

Both retirements are voluntary, Supt. Paul H. Blair said. The mandatory retirement age in the city system is 70.

Questioned by board members, Blair said each will be eligible to substitute for 59 days a year without affecting their retirement pay.

Boyd, who received his Bachelor's degree from Ohio University, has been teaching in city schools since 1943. He came to East Liverpool after having previously taught in Dillonvale and Coshocton County school systems.

Mrs. Gillespie taught in Belmont County schools before coming to East Liverpool in 1956. She is a graduate of West Liberty State Teachers College.

THE BOARD also accepted the resignation of Willie H. Strader, high school biology teacher effective at the end of the first semester. Blair reported Strader resigned on the advice of his physician to return to Florida.

Strader had lived in Florida for a year, but returned to this area last fall to accept the city post.

The board also approved the appointments of a full-time elementary substitute teacher, two elementary teachers and two high school teachers.

The new high school instructors are Miss Karen Lynn Bobby of Farrell, Pa., a Youngstown University graduate who will teach commercial subjects, and Miss Mary Alice Jura of McMechen, W. Va., a graduate of West Liberty State Teachers College, who will succeed Strader.

The new elementary teachers are Mrs. Carmen Mase, a former local teacher, and Miss Barbara Yager, a graduate of ELHS and the College of Steubenville, who will teach seventh-grade mathematics at Westgate for the remainder of the term.

Mrs. Phoebe Giambroni, who has been teaching first grade at McKinley, was employed as a full-time substitute elementary teacher.

The board also approved the appointment of Mrs. Wanda Lowe as a cafeteria worker at Westgate. She has been a substitute employe for five years.

THE BOARD also approved the appointment of Norman Six as varsity gymnastics coach at a salary of $150 a year. Blair said the school has been trying for three years to advance the gymnastics program and now has made it a competitive sport.

Richard Smith, a board member, commended the move, declaring he believed it is good for as many students to be active in sports as possible.

The board also approved the adoption of a new literature text, "Insights Into Literature" for sophomore college preparatory students effective immediately. It is published by Houghton-Mifflin Co. and lists at $4.56 a copy.

Asst. Supt. George Hargraves Jr. explained new literature texts for junior and senior college prep students were put into use in September, but no decision had been reached at that time on the sophomore textbook. Ninety copies will be required for the two classes, he said.

The board also granted permission for Dale Jones to attend East Liverpool High School with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Richard Jones, paying the tuition. The family moved last week into the Beaver Local district, Blair said.

The superintendent said he regretted to see the family move from the city district because they had been "tremendous workers" in school campaigns.

The board authorized Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, to request an advance in real estate taxes from the county auditor's office if needed.

It also adopted a service fund of $1,123 for the year. Miss Liebschner said the board is authorized to adopt a fund equal to 20 cents per child, based on the enrollment on the third Monday in January, or $1,000, whichever is greater. The enrollment on Jan. 17 was 5,618 pupils.

Miss Liebschner reported a balance of $68,331 in the general fund and $189,001 in all school accounts.

THE BOARD also approved three requests for rentals of school facilities, rejected one date because it falls on Ash Wednesday and authorized the building committee to reach a decision on another.

The board approved a motion by Samuel M. Brown that no school facility be rented on Feb. 23, Ash Wednesday, after receiving a request from the Jaycees for use of Memorial Auditorium on that date for a professional wrestling show.

Brown's motion also authorized the superintendent to confer with the Jaycees on another date.

Action on the request of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club to use the unpaved section at the rear of Westgate School for its annual carnival May 23-28 was turned over to the building committee for a decision.

Blair said the committee has been considering seeding the area this year but no final decision has been made.

The board approved the club's request for use of Memorial Auditorium on March 28-29-31 and April 1-2 for its 19th annual junior basketball tournament. The fee will be $35 a night plus any custodial charges.

It also authorized the Columbiana County Youth for Christ to use a classroom at Westgate School for two 45-minute meetings on Feb. 11 and Feb. 25. There will be no charge.

The Lions Club was given permission to use Westgate auditorium on March 26 for its annual minstrel show, with a rehearsal scheduled March 24. The fee will be $20 for the rehearsal and $50 plus custodial charges for the performance.

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, president, appointed two committees for the year. Brown and Harry D. McConville will serve on the finance committee with Smith and John R. Woomer on the building committee.

The board also awarded a contract totaling $147,426.50 to the Robert A. Gribben Co. of Steubenville for the construction of an addition to the Weir Vocational Building. Also bidding was the Harry W. Trushel Co. of Weirton with $148,227.

'Calamity' School Closings Left With Local Authorities

A decision on whether snowstorms are "calamities" and schools can be closed without the time being made up will rest in the future with local boards of education and administrators rather than state officials, Supt. Paul H. Blair advised the Board of Education Monday night.

Blair said Atty. Gen. William Saxbe late last week reversed an earlier opinion that the state superintendent of public instruction must decide whether to approve local closings without the time being made up.

When the original ruling was issued, Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent, said snowstorms "rarely" would be considered calamities and any lost time would have to be made up.

In effect, the new opinion goes back to the original ruling that schools must be in session for 182 days or face the loss of state foundation aid, Blair said.

The 182 days include time for professional meetings and closings because of weather conditions. However, if schools are closed for more than five days, the time must be made up, he explained.

Blair was asked to comment by Richard Smith, who said "People think we are ogres because we had children attending school despite heavy snows."

Questioned by board members, the superintendent said attendance on Jan. 24, the day after the district was buried under a 17-inch fall, was 80 per cent. More students were absent on the following Monday, but attendance still was 75 per cent, he said.

Twenty - seven teachers were absent on one Monday, but the absences were not too far above normal this year, Blair said, adding that absences have been heavy because of "extended illness" among faculty members and their families.

Sentencing Due Girl Involved In Murder Of Two

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Ohio teen-ager Dixie Lee Radcliff awaited sentencing scheduled today for involvement in two murders — involvement a psychologist has testified she may have been unable to avoid.

At a hearing Monday, Dr. Ronald A. Peterson of Arizona State College testified she might have endangered herself if she hadn't gone along with Donald Boggs, who has been convicted of the killings.

"If she had openly rebelled against him (Boggs) it probably would have resulted in either a severe beating or her death," Peterson said.

The hearing was held on request of the court-appointed attorney for Miss Radcliff, who turns 17 Friday, to show "mitigating circumstances."

Boggs is under death sentence on a guilty plea to the fatal shootings of Halvor Johnson, 28, and Robert Willis, 23, both of Newport, N. H.

Dixie, Daughter of an Amesville, Ohio, preacher, ran away with Boggs, a Londonerry, Ohio, ex-convict of 23, who when arrested here also told of two other killings in western states.

MOM GOT TIRED OF THAT SAME OLD LINE
AND GOT A NEW FLAME

Mom finally came to the end of her rope and got herself a new flame—a modern flame heated Gas clothes dryer.

Gone from the basement is the web of clothes lines. Gone is the damp maze of laundry that hung for days. Mom doesn't hang around here any more because with a turn of a dial her new flame dries a whole heaping load of laundry in minutes . . . soft, fluffy, and fresh as sunshine.

No more nylon stocking curtains in the bathroom, either. Because a Gas dryer dries so gently, with such precise temperature control, you can dry anything in it. Not only does a Gas dryer save money by keeping clothes newer longer, you can dry up to five big loads for what one load costs in the flameless kind.

You'll save money on service, too. If your Gas dryer ever needs fixing, just give us a call. Our trained servicemen will find the trouble quickly. Most services are free. All service is fast, courteous and dependable.

Then think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas.

Sentencing Due Girl Involved In Murder Of Two

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Ohio teen-ager Dixie Lee Radcliff awaited sentencing scheduled today for involvement in two murders — involvement a psychologist has testified she may have been unable to avoid.

At a hearing Monday, Dr. Ronald A. Peterson of Arizona State College testified she might have endangered herself if she hadn't gone along with Donald Boggs, who has been convicted of the killings.

"If she had openly rebelled against him (Boggs) it probably would have resulted in either a severe beating or her death," Peterson said.

The hearing was held on request of the court-appointed attorney for Miss Radcliff, who turns 17 Friday, to show "mitigating circumstances."

Boggs is under death sentence on a guilty plea to the fatal shootings of Halvor Johnson, 28, and Robert Willis, 23, both of Newport, N. H.

Dixie, Daughter of an Amesville, Ohio, preacher, ran away with Boggs, a Londonerry, Ohio, ex-convict of 23, who when arrested here also told of two other killings in western states.

AND GOT A NEW FLAME

Mom finally came to the end of her rope and got herself a new flame—a modern flame heated Gas clothes dryer.

Gone from the basement is the web of clothes lines. Gone is the damp maze of laundry that hung for days. Mom doesn't hang around here any more because with a turn of a dial her new flame dries a whole heaping load of laundry in minutes . . . soft, fluffy, and fresh as sunshine.

No more nylon stocking curtains in the bathroom, either. Because a Gas dryer dries so gently, with such precise temperature control, you can dry anything in it. Not only does a Gas dryer save money by keeping clothes newer longer, you can dry up to five big loads for what one load costs in the flameless kind.

You'll save money on service, too. If your Gas dryer ever needs fixing, just give us a call. Our trained servicemen will find the trouble quickly. Most services are free. All service is fast, courteous and dependable.

Then think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas.

Scioto County To Be Site For New Ohio Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A site in Lucasville, near Portsmouth, has been selected for a new $18 million state penitentiary, Gov. James A. Rhodes announced today.

The Scioto County site is 10 miles north of Portsmouth on U. S. 23, and comprises 1,500 acres. It was chosen by a committee headed by Martin A. Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Rhodes called the site selection the first step toward vacating the century-old Penitentiary in downtown Columbus. The current penitentiary was designed to house less than 2,000 inmates and now has about 3,600, Rhodes said.

Months of study preceded the site selection. The Lucasville site was one of three under final consideration. The others were in Jackson County and Meigs County.

The Ohio Legislature made the $18 million penitentiary appropriation last year out of capital improvement funds. The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction must now ask the State Controlling Board to release the money.

City Hall Closings Set To Observe Holidays

City Hall offices will be closed next Saturday in observance of Lincoln's Birthday and on Tuesday, Feb. 22, to mark Washington's Birthday, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

Many public offices in Ohio, adhering to the State Code, will be closed Feb. 11-12 as well as Feb. 22. Under a new law observed for the first time in 1965, state employes are given Friday off if a holiday falls on Saturday. The two - day closing is scheduled this weekend for the Courthouse in Lisbon.

Willshaw said parking meter regulation will be enforced both Feb. 12 and 22 because they are not included in the fee-less days defined in the City Code. Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections, said the County Election Board office may be closed for Lincoln's Birthday, if it will not interfere with the current backlog of work.

Due Freedom April 7

Man's Release May End Legal Tangle Of 45 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Leroy Dunlap will become a free man April 7, after a year in prison and 44 years of running from a death sentence.

His release should end the legal tangle of a man who lived most of a lifetime under another name, escaped the electric chair because of a lost trial record, then pleaded guilty to a charge on which he probably could not have been convicted.

Dunlap, now 65, will be paroled from a prison honor camp at Junction City to live with a son in St. Louis.

But Leroy Dunlap may cease to exist.

One of the first things I will do when I'm free is change my name from Dunlap," said the man whose name was Harry Walker until fingerprints betrayed him as Leroy Dunlap.

"I don't want to die as Leroy Dunlap, murderer," he said.

Leroy Dunlap was 19 on Jan. 13, 1920, when he and four other young men tried to hold up an Akron restaurant.

A waiter named Steve Bossos resisted. Dunlap fired the gun he carried — accidentally, he says—and a first degree murder case began.

But that May Dunlap and two other men sawed out of jail. Dunlap evaded capture, then enlisted in the Army under the name of Harry Walker.

He was tried, despite his absence, and convicted. The jury recommended no mercy, an automatic death sentence.

The sentence was never pronounced because Dunlap was never found.

Dunlap remained in the Army until 1925. Then he moved to St. Louis. He became a street car conductor, married and had children.

In 1942, he re-enlisted in the Army Air Corps, and after retiring in 1959, he entered a veterans home in Washington, D.C.

Military finger prints were checked—and Harry Walker was revealed as Leroy Dunlap in 1964.

But Akron authorities found Dunlap had been gone too long. Judge Stephen C. Colopy refused to impose the death sentence because the trial manuscript had been destroyed. He granted Dunlap a new trial.

But witnesses had died, evidence vanished—and even the body of the slain waiter seemed misplaced.

Dunlap solved the prosecution problem by pleading guilty to first degree manslaughter. He was sentenced to 1-20 years in prison.

April 7, Leroy Dunlap will be able to go out for good—and take with him about $2,000 he has saved from $813 a month in Army and Social Security pension checks.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Taking Up The Culture Lag

CBS-TV is flirting seriously with culture.

Richard Doan

Having lately run off a two-part longhair "Ages of Man," starring John Gielgud, and announced a two-hour production of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" for April 3, the network now has disclosed it has bought a 90-minute British performance of Anton Chekhov's drama, "Ivanov," for presentation during the 1966-67 season.

-:-

"IVANOV" is one of the hits of London's current theatrical season and is scheduled to open on Broadway in the spring for a 12-week limited run, starring Gielgud.

CBS has spent in excess of $300,000 on the color TV production, using an adaptation by Gielgud and John Bowen.

The performance, taped in London, stars Gielgud in the title role, supported by a cast including Claire Bloom, Roland Culver, Angela Baddeley, Yvonne Mitchell, Richard Pasco and Ronald Radd.

CBS-TV program chief Michael H. Dann, who announced the "Ivanov" acquisition, said "two or three more of this magnitude" are in the works.

ONE, HE REPORTED, is Gielgud's production of "King Lear," which had a London run last year.

Dann said, "We've asked him three times, on his own terms, but he doesn't want to do it now. We hope to get him to do it a year from now."

Arrangements for the "Ivanov" special were made through Lew Grade, the British TV impresario from whom CBS bought "Secret Agent," ABC "The Baron" and NBC "The Saint."

Dann exuded elation at the cultural turn of interest at CBS, saying, "It's about time, right!" He said he and CBS-TV president John A. Schneider had been plotting a return to more dramatic specials for the past year.

DINA MERRILL, one of the better actresses gracing guest roles in TV dramas, will take on a new kind of role March 28, hostess of a new ABC-TV daytime dramatic series called "Confidential for Women."

It will be a half-hour daily program, serialized over a period of one week, dramatizing the problems often faced by today's woman.

The series will be produced and sometimes written by George Leiferts, who turned out "Purex Specials for Women" These similarly portrayed women's personal problems.

"WE FEEL," said ABC-TV daytime program chief Leonard Goldberg, "that 'Confidential for Women' will bring to daytime a quality long lacking. We're very excited about the project. We hope shortly to be able to announce participation by some well-known people who have not yet worked in daytime television."

Some of the first dramatizations, he said, will deal with "love after 19 years of marriage," the problems of a divorcee with a young child, and "what happens to women after childbirth, how they often become depressed, and so forth."

"Confidential" will be shown at 2 p.m. daily. "The Nurses," now serialized in that time, will be moved to 3:30. "Young Marrieds," a soap opera seen at that hour, will be dropped.

NATIONAL Educational Television soon may be offering features from behind the Iron Curtain.

John F. White, president of NET, is back in New York from what he describes as "a very successful trip" to the Soviet Union to seek the Kremlin's cooperation in some TV ventures. It is NET's first such approach.

"We met with the Minister of Culture," White reported. "He was very cordial. We discussed both acquisition of programming they have as well as the right to come in and produce some programs of their own there.

"It looks like both will be possible. The opportunities look very promising."

Way Cleared For Planning On Lisbon St.

Council approved legislation Monday night clearing the way for the administration to hire an engineer to prepare detailed plans and specifications for improvement of Lisbon St. between W. 8th St. and the north city limits.

The State Highway Department will pay the bulk of the cost of the $200,000 project, which calls for widening of the present pavement to help ease some of the sharp curves on the hillside stretch, along with resurfacing.

The city's share of the job is estimated at $40,000, which will include furnishing the plans, 20 per cent of the cost of engineering, right-of-way and construction and 100 per cent of the cost of any necessary relocation of utility lines.

The 1964-65 Council approved so-called "consent legislation" for the project late in 1965.

Council's enabling legislation approved last night authorized Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to sign a contract with an engineer to draw up the detailed plans.

The highway department agreed several years ago to participate in the project because Lisbon St. is a link in State Route 267.

The city sought the Lisbon St. improvement for several years. The state and municipal officials finally came to an agreement early last year.

The legislation on engineering contains an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect immediately after it is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

Electric Firm To Reduce Rates In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Electric Co., Johnstown, is reducing rates of 17,236 customers by $153,000 a year, effective March 1, under authority granted by the Public Utility Commission.

The reduction, approved by the PUC Monday, affects charges of home heating, private outdoor lighting and municipal mercury vapor street lighting.

Bills on 3,937 home heating customers will be reduced $88,600, the PUC said. A total of 13,182 patrons using outdoor lights will save $350,300, and 207 municipalities will have street lighting costs trimmed by $13,170.

The company said the cut in home heating rates was designed to improve its competitive position, while lower manufacturing prices made possible the reduced charge for mercury vapor street lighting.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Taking Up The Culture Lag

CBS-TV is flirting seriously with culture.

It's a far cry from the Jim Aubrey days.

Richard Doan

Having lately run off a two-part long-hair "Ages of Man," starring John Gielgud, and announced a two-hour production of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" for April 3, the network now has disclosed it has bought a 90-minute British performance of Anton Chekhov's drama, "Ivanov," for presentation during the 1966-67 season.

-:-

"IVANOV" is one of the hits of London's current theatrical season and is scheduled to open on Broadway in the spring for a 12-week limited run, starring Gielgud.

CBS has spent in excess of $300,000 on the color TV production, using an adaptation by Gielgud and John Bowen.

The performance, taped in London, stars Gielgud in the title role, supported by a cast including Claire Bloom, Roland Culver, Angela Baddeley, Yvonne Mitchell, Richard Pasco and Ronald Radd.

CBS-TV program chief Michael H. Dann, who announced the "Ivanov" acquisition, said "two or three more of this magnitude" are in the works.

ONE, HE REPORTED, is Gielgud's production of "King Lear," which had a London run last year.

Dann said, "We've asked him three times, on his own terms, but he doesn't want to do it now. We hope to get him to do it a year from now."

Arrangements for the "Ivanov" special were made through Lew Grade, the British TV impresario from whom CBS bought "Secret Agent," ABC "The Baron" and NBC "The Saint."

Dann exuded elation at the cultural turn of interest at CBS, saying, "It's about time, right?" He said he and CBS-TV president John A. Schneider had been plotting a return to more dramatic specials for the past year.

DINA MERRILL, one of the better actresses gracing guest roles in TV dramas, will take on a new kind of role March 28, hostess of a new ABC-TV daytime dramatic series called "Confidential for Women."

It will be a half-hour daily program, serialized over a period of one week, dramatizing the problems often faced by today's woman.

The series will be produced and sometimes written by George Leiferts, who turned out "Purex Specials for Women" These similarly portrayed women's personal problems.

"WE FEEL," said ABC-TV daytime program chief Leonard Goldberg, "that 'Confidential for Women' will bring to daytime a quality long lacking. We're very excited about the project. We hope shortly to be able to announce participation by some well-known people who have not yet worked in daytime television."

Some of the first dramatizations, he said, will deal with "love after 19 years of marriage," the problems of a divorcee with a young child, and "what happens to women after childbirth, how they often become depressed, and so forth."

"Confidential" will be shown at 2 p.m. daily. "The Nurses," now serialized in that time, will be moved to 3:30. "Young Marrieds," a soap opera seen at that hour, will be dropped.

NATIONAL Educational Television soon may be offering features from behind the Iron Curtain.

John F. White, president of NET, is back in New York from what he describes as "a very successful trip" to the Soviet Union to seek the Kremlin's cooperation in some TV ventures. It is NET's first such approach.

"We met with the Minister of Culture," White reported. "He was very cordial. We discussed both acquisition of programming they have as well as the right to come in and produce some programs of their own there.

"It looks like both will be possible. The opportunities look very promising."

Electric Firm To Reduce Rates In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Electric Co., Johnstown, is reducing rates of 17,236 customers by $153,000 a year, effective March 1, under authority granted by the Public Utility Commission.

The reduction, approved by the PUC Monday, affects charges of home heating, private outdoor lighting and municipal mercury vapor street lighting.

The company said the cut in home heating rates was designed to improve its competitive position, while lower manufacturing prices made possible the reduced charge for mercury vapor street lighting.

FOR FASTER WINTER STARTS

Rogers Fills Council Post

ROGERS — Howard Baker Jr., of Farr St. was appointed to Council by Mayor Glenn Rhodes at a meeting Monday night.

Baker fills a vacancy which existed since the November general election when only three men were named to four seats. One was a ballot candidate and the other two were write-in candidates. None of the remaining write-in candidates accepted appointment.

In other action, Council authorized a tentative appropriation ordinance for $9,654 for 1966, down from the $10,010 of 1965.

A request for "No Truck Parking" signs for use on W. Walnut St. filed by Marshal Sidney Cowan was approved, along with a parking ban for the area near two alleys intersecting Routes 7 and 154.

Councilman William Crawford, chairman of the street committee, asked residents to keep sidewalks cleared of snow as required by law.

The next meeting will be March 7.

Council Rejects Director Report At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Disagreement over the financial report concerning the municipal power plant caused Council Monday night to reject the annual summary from Safety-Service Director George McGuckin.

McGuckin last week announced details of the report of city operations and presented the report to Council last night.

In the power plant summary, McGuckin listed a $5,000 deficit, but Councilmen pointed out he had listed a $100,000 transfer of funds to surplus as an expenditure.

This transfer to the inactive funds earning interest when added to department fund totals represents a $95,000 fund surplus instead of a deficit, Council declared in rejecting the report — the first time such a report has not been accepted by the city Council here.

McGuckin plans to revise the report and resubmit it.

Driver Remains 'Critical' After Trumbull Mishap

Morris P. Boles, 36, of Lisbon R. D. 1, injured in a truck-car crash in Trumbull County Saturday, remained in "critical" condition today at Salem Central Clinic.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said his truck was rammed by a car operated by Raymond Davis, 25, of Newton Falls at the intersection of Routes 14 and Route 534, six miles northwest of Salem.

St. Clair Seeks Police Car Bids

Trustees paid $1,138 in bills at the session over which Lorain Faulks presided. David Dray, chairman, was at a meeting in Lisbon.

Police Chief Lester McElhaney reported on January police activities. He said officers answered three domestic calls, issued four traffic warnings, served two papers, investigated three juvenile cases, aided the Highway Patrol at six accidents and gave aid to five motorists.

Group To Hear Paper By Weirton Steel Aide

WEIRTON — William M. Smith, supervisor of industrial health engineering at the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp., will present a technical paper during the 58th national meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers Wednesday in Dallas.

Entitled "Collection of Iron Oxides with an Electrostatic Precipitator," Smith's paper will outline the installation of the precipitator on the No. 13 and No. 14 open hearth furnaces as a part of Weirton Steel's step-by-step program to control the discharge of effluents from its steelmaking operations.

Scranton Calls Leaders To Sift Special Session

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton called a meeting in his office today to explore the possibility of a special session of the General Assembly for Congressional reapportionment.

Invited to attend the session were legislative leaders, state party chairmen and two members of Pennsylvania's Congressional delegation, U.S. Reps. John P. Saylor, a Republican, and Thomas E. Morgan, a Democrat.

A spokesman for the governor said Monday the session was to explore the positions of the respective parties and to determine if and when a special session should be convened.

Scranton has said the Democrats, who control the House, and Republicans, who control the senate, must reach a tentative agreement on realigning Congressional districts before he will call a special session.

House majority leader Joshua Eilberg, D-Philadelphia, has insisted that the special session be called without any prior commitments.

California grows more fruits and vegetables than any state. It also produces 85 per cent of the nation's wine.

If you are weight watching, here's a reminder: fruit and cottage cheese plus melba toast make a satisfying lunch. If you like, you can use low-calorie canned fruit and low-calorie commercial cottage cheese.

Three Teams Keep Ohio's Voting Close

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lima Shawnee, Canton McKinley and Dayton Chaminade continued to hold the top three spots in the state rankings of Class AA high school basketball teams.

The Shawnee Indians, 16-0, slipped by Piqua last Saturday 49-41 and garnered 178 points from The Associated Press selection committee.

McKinley, 14-1, finished with 14-0, gained on the leaders with 163.

Hamilton Taft, in fourth spot four consecutive weeks, nosedived to eighth place after absorbing two setbacks over the weekend.

Hamilton Garfield, 12-2, walloped Taft 83-62 and moved into the No. 10 position on the strength of the victory.

Springboro again held the top spot in Class A competition with 136 points, gathered on the strength of two weekend victories. Rossford, like Springboro 15-0, copped a pair in convincing fashion and jumped to second on 119 points while Rittman, 16-0, was third.

Scholastic sidelights:

New Philadelphia has taken the lead in the Cardinal Conference on an 8-2 mark after whipping defending champ Coshocton 55-53.

Cincinnati Finneytown has now run off 13 straight triumphs after losing its opener.

Cincinnati Lincoln Heights, 10-6, is being pegged as a team that could threaten Springboro in district play. Lincoln has won seven in a row and plays a strict AA schedule.

Republic High School in Seneca County bested Thompson 48-42 to snap a 33-game losing string.

Game Mountaineers Stun Duke, 94-90

Bounce Back After Trailing By 19

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

To play or not to play — that was the question. And there just wasn't any answer to Duke's Blue Devils.

Monday night, Duke saw its 13-game winning streak halted by West Virginia, 94-90.

Today, the Blue Devils find themselves second in The Associated Press weekly poll after occupying the top spot for eight straight weeks.

But it was idleness, not West Virginia, that knocked Duke out of first place. The poll was based on performance through last Saturday, and Duke was idle last week while unbeaten Kentucky, now No. 1, won three times.

Kentucky won its 18th straight Monday night by defeating Florida 85-75. The only other member of the Top Ten to see action was No. 9 Nebraska, an 85-81 winner over Oklahoma.

"I would like to have had a game in the past week, but what difference it would have made I don't know," said Duke Coach Vic Bubas after the loss at Charleston, W.Va.

Duke, now 15-2, started off as if it would run the Mountaineers (15-5) right off the court, building up a 31-12 margin. But the Blue Devils led only 45-42 at halftime.

Then in the second half Duke lost center Mike Lewis on fouls and ran smack into inspired play by West Virginia's "Gangbusters," three defensive specialists used by Coach Bucky Waters, a Bubas assistant for six years before this season.

"After I switched to my gangbusters (John Cavacini, Ron Williams and Gerry Shaffer) the press seemed to hurt them some," Waters said.

Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp said after his Wildcats' sluggish but winning home-court performance, "I don't know any team that played three games in one week like we did and won by as decisive margins as we did, but I'm afraid I had a bunch of tired boys tonight."

Kentucky led 42-34 at halftime and increased its margin to 17 points late in the second half to coast home in the Southeastern Conference game. Pat Riley scored 24 points, Louie Dampier 18 and Thad Jaracz 17 for Kentucky.

In another big game, Illinois missed a chance to tie Michigan State and Michigan for the Big Ten lead by losing at home, 80-77 to Northwestern. The Illini now are 5-2 in league play.

In other action, UCLA walloped Washington 89-67, North Carolina thrashed South Carolina 104-70, Tennessee trounced Georgia 100-71, Wisconsin nipped Indiana 79-78, Purdue downed Iowa 66-58, Kansas State beat Oklahoma State 50-44, Colorado bested Missouri 65-84-38, and small-college leader Southern Illinois was upset 65-61 by unranked Tennessee State.

In Ohio action, Dayton lifted its record to 16-3 by whipping Murray State 99-86 and Walsh bowed to Gannon 91-48 at Erie, Pa.

Henry Finkel scored 34 Dayton points, making 14 of 17 shots from the field, and Don May chipped in 23 for the Flyers. Dayton led only 46-42 at the half but stormed out with a 16-2 burst at the outset of the second period.

Kentucky Voted To No. 1 Spot

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duke found out today that it does not pay not to play.

The Blue Devils, who have held the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press major-college basketball rankings for eight consecutive weeks, dropped into second place today as unbeaten Kentucky moved to the top for the first time this season.

And chances are Kentucky's three impressive victories — coupled with Duke's seven days of idleness — brought about the flip-flop.

Duke now has played only one game in the last three weeks. The first two weeks were taken up by mid-year exams but the third week was simply a case of not being able to schedule a game.

"We tried very hard to shift dates and arrange a game for this week," said Duke Coach Vic Bubas, "but we just couldn't do it. We've practiced daily, but there's nothing like playing."

The voters apparently saw it that way too with the Wildcats drawing 20 first-place votes and 341 points from a select panel of sportswriters and sportscasters voting in The AP poll. Kentucky brought its record to 17-0 by beating Alabama 82-62, Vanderbilt 105-90 and Georgia 74-50 last week.

Duke, which finally got into action Monday night, showed the voters a 15-1 record through Saturday's games and received 12-first-place votes and 304 points.

The voting, with records through Saturday, and points:

1.	Kentucky 17-0	341
2.	Duke 15-1	304
3.	Chicago Loyola	210
4.	Texas Western 16-0	205
5.	Vanderbilt 16-3	177
6.	Providence 15-1	176
7.	Kansas 15-3	117
8.	St. Joseph's, Pa. 15-4	106
9.	Nebraska 14-2	60
10.	Michigan 12-5	33

Alabama U. Draws Penalty From SEC

By JIM PURKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The University of Alabama, national college football champion the past two years, has been penalized by the Southeastern Conference for using two ineligible players in freshman games last fall.

Commissioner Bernie Moore ordered the school — perennial producer of football powerhouses under Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant — to limit its grants to incoming football players next fall to 38, two less than normally allowed.

Alabama President Dr. Frank A. Rose said Monday in Tuscaloosa that the school regrets the violation. He said it stemmed from a misinterpretation of rules, and that he is writing an apology to presidents of SEC schools.

"The University of Alabama deeply regrets the misunderstanding, whereby more than 40 freshmen who were receiving financial assistance played in conference freshmen football games last fall," Rose said.

Moore said an investigation showed Alabama permitted 42 new football players on financial aid to participate in freshman football games.

Former ELHS Aide Named To WVU Post

Hayden Buckley, who served as an assistant coach at East Liverpool High School for three years (1954-56) was added to the West Virginia University football staff today as defensive backfield coach.

He had been on the staff of George Washington University for the last two years.

A native of Berlin Heights, Ohio, Buckley was an All-Ohio Conference quarterback at Ohio Wesleyan. After graduation he first served as an assistant at East Liverpool under Bob Gibson and later under Lou Venditti.

In 1960 he moved to George Washington staff, then went to the University of Virginia staff until the end of the 1963 season, when he rejoined the GW staff.

Buckley is the third former quarterback to join the WVU staff under Carlen.

Indians Must Sign 15 For Full Squad

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians must sign 15 players in 17 days if they expect to have all present and accounted for when spring training camp opens in Tucson, Ariz.

Outfielder Rocky Colavito, the Indians' 1965 Man of the Year, is the chief among those still not on the dotted line. He's looking for a sizable pay raise. So is pitcher Ralph Terry.

Shortstop Larry Brown signed Monday.

Rupp Feels Closer Touch With This Year's Wildcats

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The forecasters said it would be an off-year for Kentucky, but testy old Adolph Rupp disagreed.

Rupp said, "I'm 20 pounds lighter, I feel great, and we're going to have a good year." That was in November.

Eighteen basketball games and 18 victories later, the Baron and his Wildcats are sitting on top of the Associated Press poll and holding a big edge in the Southeastern Conference race.

The big story is not what happened but how it occurred. Adolph Rupp has fallen in love with a basketball team.

For the first time in his 35 fabulously successful years at Kentucky, Rupp has let a team get under his skin. He takes a personal interest in each of his boys this year and he delights in their success.

Rupp admits it. "Oh, yes, I am very close to these guys. I think they are some of the finest young men I've ever know," he said.

Rupp considers the Wildcats the best-balanced team he has had. At various times this year he has had praise for Larry Conley's passing and ball handling; Louie Dampier's shooting; Thad Jaracz' inside work; Tom Kron's playmaking, and, his special favorite, Pat Riley's general play.

Asked why he takes a personal interest in this year's players, he said, "They are easier to get along with . . . they know what I'm trying to tell them . . . they understand what I'm trying to do."

The team feels the same way about its stodgy but fiery coach. Senior Conley said he never has seen a coach take such an interest in the members of his squad.

"He's very close to us this year . . . he works hard, and we know he's pulling for us all the time," Conley said.

"The fans never have taken to a team like they have this one," he said. "I hear people downtown everywhere talking about 'our Wildcats.'"

Wilt Tallies 65 In Win Over LA

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain was held to his season low when the Philadelphia 76ers dropped out of second place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Less than 24 hours later, he got his high as they moved back into the No. 2 spot.

Chamberlain, who got only 14 points in Sunday's 100-99 loss to the Boston Celtics, pumped in 65 Monday night in the 76ers' 132-125 victory over Los Angeles.

The victory left the 76ers 2½ games behind the Celtics, who beat San Francisco 112-107 in the first game of the doubleheader at Philadelphia. Cincinnati fell three games behind by losing 124-118 to Detroit at Indianapolis, Ind.

Chamberlain passed the current season's high of 57 points by San Francisco's Rick Barry by hitting on 28 field goals and nine of 20 foul shots as the 76ers halted their losing streak at three games.

Celtics Coach Red Auerbach was banished in the second period for arguing with referee Norm Drucker, and center Bill Russell took over as coach. The Celtics were behind by 15 points at the time.

Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere and rookie Tom Van Arsdale sparked Detroit over Cincinnati. DeBusschere hit for 29 points and Van Arsdale 26. Oscar Robertson's 34 points and Jerry Lucas' 25 points and 28 rebounds paced the Royals.

Kentucky Voted To No. 1 Spot

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duke found out today that it does not pay not to play.

The Blue Devils, who have held the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press major-college basketball rankings for eight consecutive weeks, dropped into second place today as unbeaten Kentucky moved to the top for the first time this season.

Duke now has played only one game in the last three weeks. The first two weeks were taken up by mid-year exams but the third week was simply a case of not being able to schedule a game.

"We tried very hard to shift dates and arrange a game for this week," said Duke Coach Vic Bubas, "but we just couldn't do it. We've practiced daily, but there's nothing like playing."

The voters apparently saw it that way too with the Wildcats drawing 20 first-place votes and 341 points from a select panel of sportswriters and sportscasters voting in The AP poll. Kentucky brought its record to 17-0 by beating Alabama 82-62, Vanderbilt 105-90 and Georgia 74-50 last week.

Duke, which finally got into action Monday night, showed the voters a 15-1 record through Saturday's games and received 12-first-place votes and 304 points.

The voting, with records through Saturday, and points:

1.	Kentucky 17-0	341
2.	Duke 15-1	304
3.	Chicago Loyola	210
4.	Texas Western 16-0	205
5.	Vanderbilt 16-3	177
6.	Providence 15-1	176
7.	Kansas 15-3	117
8.	St. Joseph's, Pa. 15-4	106
9.	Nebraska 14-2	60
10.	Michigan 12-5	33

By JIM PURKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The University of Alabama, national college football champion the past two years, has been penalized by the Southeastern Conference for using two ineligible players in freshman games last fall.

Commissioner Bernie Moore ordered the school — perennial producer of football powerhouses under Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant — to limit its grants to incoming football players next fall to 38, two less than normally allowed.

Alabama President Dr. Frank A. Rose said Monday in Tuscaloosa that the school regrets the violation. He said it stemmed from a misinterpretation of rules, and that he is writing an apology to presidents of SEC schools.

"The University of Alabama deeply regrets the misunderstanding, whereby more than 40 freshmen who were receiving financial assistance played in conference freshmen football games last fall," Rose said.

Moore said an investigation showed Alabama permitted 42 new football players on financial aid to participate in freshman football games.

Former ELHS Aide Named To WVU Post

Hayden Buckley, who served as an assistant coach at East Liverpool High School for three years (1954-56) was added to the West Virginia University football staff today as defensive backfield coach.

He had been on the staff of George Washington University for the last two years.

A native of Berlin Heights, Ohio, Buckley was an All-Ohio Conference quarterback at Ohio Wesleyan. After graduation he first served as an assistant at East Liverpool under Bob Gibson and later under Lou Venditti.

In 1960 he moved to George Washington staff, then went to the University of Virginia staff until the end of the 1963 season, when he rejoined the GW staff.

Buckley is the third former quarterback to join the WVU staff under Carlen.

Indians Must Sign 15 For Full Squad

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians must sign 15 players in 17 days if they expect to have all present and accounted for when spring training camp opens in Tucson, Ariz.

Outfielder Rocky Colavito, the Indians' 1965 Man of the Year, is the chief among those still not on the dotted line. He's looking for a sizable pay raise. So is pitcher Ralph Terry.

Others unsigned include pitchers Gary Bell, Jack Kralick and Lee Stange, catcher Duke Sims.

Shortstop Larry Brown signed Monday.

Stanton Club To Meet

The Stanton Local Boosters Club will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school instead of Tuesday which has been the regular meeting night.

Nonpareil Tourney Will Begin March 28

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club has set the 19th annual Junior Basketball Tournament for March 28, 29, 31 and April 1 and 2 at Memorial Auditorium. The Board of Education Monday night approved the use of the Auditorium for those dates.

'They're Easy To Get Along With'

Rupp Feels Closer Touch With This Year's Wildcats

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The forecasters said it would be an off-year for Kentucky, but testy old Adolph Rupp disagreed.

Rupp said, "I'm 20 pounds lighter, I feel great, and we're going to have a good year." That was in November.

Eighteen basketball games and 18 victories later, the Baron and his Wildcats are sitting on top of the Associated Press poll and holding a big edge in the Southeastern Conference race.

The big story is not what happened but how it occurred Adolph Rupp has fallen in love with a basketball team.

For the first time in his 35 fabulously successful years at Kentucky, Rupp has let a team get under his skin. He takes a personal interest in each of his boys this year and he delights in their success.

Rupp admits it. "Oh, yes, I am very close to these guys. I think they are some of the finest young men I've ever know," he said.

"It's a pleasure just to come out here and watch these boys . . . they're tremendous," he said.

Rupp considers the Wildcats the best-balanced team he has had. At various times this year he has had praise for Larry Conley's passing and ball handling; Louie Dampier's shooting; Thad Jaracz' inside work; Tom Kron's playmaking, and, his special favorite, Pat Riley's general play.

Asked why he takes a personal interest in this year's players, he said, "They are easier to get along with . . . they know what I'm trying to tell them . . . they understand what I'm trying to do."

The team feels the same way about its stodgy but fiery coach. Senior Conley said he never has seen a coach take such an interest in the members of his squad.

"He's very close to us this year . . . he works hard, and we know he's pulling for us all the time," Conley said.

This is a far cry from the days when Rupp ran an impersonal machine that produced a 720-150 record but no emotion.

"The fans never have taken to a team like they have this one," he said. "I hear people downtown everywhere talking about 'our Wildcats.'"

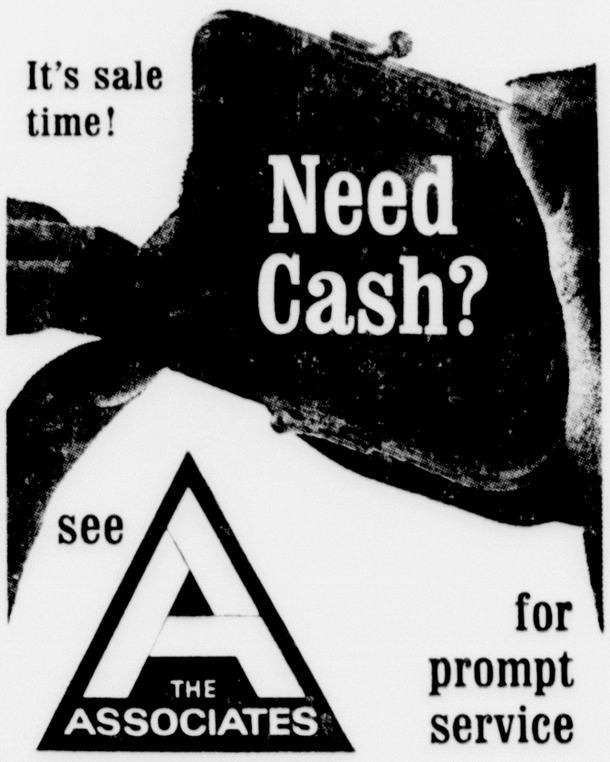

He grimaced and said, "If they start losing, they'll be 'Rupp's team' again. But that's all right with me."

Skiing Becomes Ohio's Fastest Growing Sport

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Don't be too surprised if someone asks you to go skiing this weekend.

Fred McPeck, a veteran performer who runs the Valley High ski area near Bellefontaine, estimates some 50,000 Ohioans indulge in the winter activity.

"It's going to be a year or two before skiing in Ohio reaches boom proportion," McPeck says.

McPeck figures Ohio ranks third in the Midwest in ski activity, with only Michigan and Wisconsin ahead.

Snow Trails, the oldest ski area in the state, is in its fifth season, and Valley High in its fourth, clear evidence that the sport is still in its infancy in Ohio.

Skiing could mushroom into big business in Ohio, McPeck estimates investors put up $300,000 to open Valley High. A good chunk of the initial investment went for a snow-making machine ($75,000) and a chair lift ($45,000).

"The season is short, so weather is a vital factor. Our goal is to gross about $200,000 a season," McPeck says.

Valley High grossed $165,000 in its first year of operation but weather was good and the area had 90 days of skiing.

"We only had 45 days last year and so far this year have recorded 29 days."

"We've had two 4-year-olds and one man who is 70 come out this season but participants are mostly high school and college kids on the weekend," McPeck says.

How about the risks involved?

Ohio's major areas are Alpine Valley near Chesterland; Boston Mills near Peninsula; Brandywine near Northfield; Mont Chalet near Chesterland; Ski Boot Hill near Defiance; Snow Bowl near Cadiz; Sugarcreek Ski Hills near Bellbrook; Alpine Resort in Morrow and Clear Fork, Snow Trails and Valley High.

Williams Set In Comeback Bid Tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — Boxer Cleveland Williams, the world's No. 2 heavyweight challenger when he received critical gunshot wounds in 1964, makes his first appearance in the ring tonight after 15 months of recuperation.

He underwent several operations and was hospitalized a number of months, during which time his weight dropped from a normal 216 pounds to about 160.

Young Black, who has compiled only a 9-2-1 record, is comparatively new to professional boxing. The 6-foot-4, 235-pounder is considered, however, one of the bright young heavyweight prospects.

Williams, who has the best record of any active heavyweight with a 65-4-1 record, was to have fought for the World Boxing Association's world heavyweight title in January 1965. However, the severe wound he sustained two months earlier changed all that.

Williams' weight is back to 216 and he says he's ready.

"If anything, I feel stronger," he said. "My stomach is harder than ever. If I had any pain at all I wouldn't fight. But I feel great and I'm ready to fight."

Dunbar Holds Poll Lead In West Virginia

By The Associated Press

Lately there seem to be tigers everywhere, in tanks, razors, bread, there are even a few left in the jungle. About the only place there aren't any tigers is among the top 10 high school basketball teams in the state.

The Bulldogs of Dunbar lead in the balloting by sports writers and sportscasters for the Associated Press. After that come two kinds of eagles, red devils, owls, little reds and various kinds of humans.

South Charleston's Black Eagles moved into the second position behind Dunbar. The Indians of Oceana also moved up a notch to third.

The first set of Red Devils, from Oak Hill, moved into the sixth spot, just ahead of Richwood's Lumberjacks. Richwood lost its first game of the season last week and fell from second to seventh.

Beckley's Flying Eagles held on to the No. 8 position, with a close victory over St. Albans Monday night, 68-67.

Sailing has been relatively smooth for the ninth - ranked Warwood Vikings, but it might be rougher tonight when they meet Triadelphia.

There are some more Red Devils, this time from White Sulphur Springs, in the tenth position. But things could get hot for them since they have to share the rating with the Crusaders from Parkersburg Catholic.

The top 10, including record and points received:

1. Dunbar	13-1	80
2. South Charleston	13-1	67
3. Oceana	12-1	63
4. Triadelphia	13-1	58
5. Big Creek	12-1	51
6. Oak Hill	11-2	48
7. Richwood	10-1	36
8. Beckley	8-3	30
9. Warwood	12-2	26
10. White Sulphur Springs	12-2	26
10. Parkersburg Catholic	13-1	20

Harper, Several Other Reds Sign Contracts

CINCINNATI (AP) — Outfielder Tommy Harper and seven other players have returned their signed 1966 season contracts to the Cincinnati Reds baseball club, the club said today.

Harper, who is expected to take Frank Robinson's place in right field, batted .257 last season with 18 home runs and 64 runs batted in.

Waynesburg College Coach Redskins Aide

Mets Sign Hunt

NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Hunt became the 21st New York Met to sign his contract when he agreed to accept a $25,000 salary Monday but the National League tail-enders may not find it so easy to corral some of the other regulars.

Cincy Group Seeks State, National Aid

CINCINNATI (AP) — A city-county delegation seeking financial aid for Cincinnati's proposed riverfront sports stadium visits Columbus today to talk to state officials.

The delegation is scheduled to go to Washington Thursday to see if any federal funds are available for the multimillion dollar project.

Cincinnati hopes to use the stadium as bait to lure a National Football League franchise to the city for the 1967 season. The NFL team would share the stadium with the Cincinnati Reds baseball club.

The Cincinnati delegation hopes for state aid to build access roads to the stadium and also plans to ask Gov. James A. Rhodes to declare the site a state park that would be eligible for further assistance.

In Washington, the delegation plans to confer with Urban Renewal officials and the Bureau of Public Roads.

Packers Get Schnelker As An Assistant

GREEN BAY, WIS. (AP) — Bob Schnelker, former New York Giant end, has been appointed end coach with the Green Bay Packers, the Packers announced today.

A nine-year National Football League veteran, Schnelker caught 213 passes for 3,713 yards during his career and was twice named to the Pro Bowl squad. His best season was 1959 when he caught 37 passes for 714 yards and six touchdowns.

The onetime Bowling Green Star joined the Giants in 1954. He closed out his playing career with Pittsburgh and Minnesota in 1961 and has been a coach with the Los Angeles Rams since 1963.

Pittsburgh Makes Pitch To NHL Unit

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League board of governors continued interviewing applicants today for franchises in a proposed 1967-68 expansion division that would double the present six-team circuit.

"We don't expect to make any announcements until Wednesday," NHL President Clarence Campbell said Monday after groups from five cities appeared before the club owners in the first of a three-day series of presentations.

Representatives from two of the bidding cities — Baltimore and San Francisco-Oakland — came out of the session in a midtown hotel confident their applications will be accepted.

Groups from Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and Buffalo also made 30-minute presentations Monday before the owners of the existing NHL clubs — Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Chicago, New York and Detroit.

Slipton Fell Rated One Of Winningest Horses

Slipton Fell, one of America's winningest horses, listed fifth nationally in point of races won last year, is returning to Waterford Park for the 252-day race season that starts Feb. 26.

Of the more than 30,000 horses that raced last year, there were only six that won more races than Slipton Fell, owned by Cecil Rogers. Although he was fifth there was a three-way tie for fourth place in the final standings.

Tops among winners was Chilicot with 15 scores; next came Bonded Suite with 14; Albergo, 13; then Boston Belle, Durbin Delight and Sugar Plum Fairy with 12 each. Slipton Fell wound up with 11.

Slipton Fell is one of the eight horses Rogers will campaign at Waterford Park this year. The hard-hitting six-year-old usually does very well year in and year out. Seldom does he run up sensational consecutive triumphs.

Last year his best was a string of four wins starting October 15 at six furlongs and ending with a decisive score at one mile on November 20. But then few horses have succeeded in winning race after race. Not even Man o'War. He lost one of 21 starts and his defeat was to the aptly named Upset in what was certainly the outstanding upset of the century.

Colin, on the other hand, went through an unsullied career, starting 15 times and winning 15 races, mainly because his owner and also trainer kept close tab on the opposition and never entered him where the going was too rough or tough.

Vanderpool, a meteor that flashed briefly a few years ago, won 15 races before bowing, and thereafter was an inconsistent sort.

In England one of the best none-losers was St. Simon who engaged only nine times and was never headed. He was retired only because no rivals would race against him. Barcaldine was another who never tasted defeat. He entered the winners circle on 12 occasions.

Nearer our day and age, the truly great Citation made a run of 16 consecutive triumphs. Nashua ran up a skein of six, the best he could do, but for sheer saga there is nothing like the herculean effort of Kincsem, greatest of all European mares. She started 54 times and no horse ever led her to the finish line.

Fetes like these may be repeated this year at Waterford Park where the elongated meeting of 252 days gets under way on Saturday, February 26 and runs through December 17. Post time until March 28 will be 2 p.m. then it will be moved back to 7:15 p.m. nightly.

Skiing Becomes Ohio's Fastest Growing Sport

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Don't be too surprised if someone asks you to go skiing this weekend.

Fred McPeck, a veteran performer who runs the Valley High ski area near Bellefontaine, estimates some 50,000 Ohioans indulge in the winter activity.

"It's going to be a year or two before skiing in Ohio reaches boom proportion," McPeck says.

And the operators of Ohio's dozen or so ski areas echo McPeck's sentiments.

"Conditions were just right," said a spokesman at Clear Fork near Butler. "We had a good, natural snowfall during the week and moderate temperatures helped considerably."

Roxy Falde, director of Snow Trails, near Mansfield, estimates that 3,000 turned out at his area last weekend.

McPeck figures Ohio ranks third in the Midwest in ski activity, with only Michigan and Wisconsin ahead.

Snow Trails, the oldest ski area in the state, is in its fifth season, and Valley High in its fourth, clear evidence that the sport is still in its infancy in Ohio.

McPeck, 38, is a native of Bellefontaine. He lived in the East before returning to Bellefontaine three years ago.

Skiing could mushroom into big business in Ohio. McPeck estimates investors put up $300,000 to open Valley High. A good chunk of the initial investment went for a snow-making machine ($75,000) and a chair lift ($45,000).

"The season is short, so weather is a vital factor. Our goal is to gross about $200,000 a season," McPeck says.

Valley High grossed $165,000 in its first year of operation but weather was good and the area had 90 days of skiing.

"We only had 45 days last year and so far this year have recorded 29 days."

McPeck estimates that Valley High's total assets run a half million dollars and could go higher.

"We've had two 4-year-olds and one man who is 70 come out this season but participants are mostly high school and college kids on the weekend," McPeck says.

How about the risks involved?

Ohio's major areas are Alpine Valley near Chesterland; Boston Mills near Peninsula; Brandywine near Northfield; Mont Chalet near Chesterland; Ski Boot Hill near Defiance; Snow Bowl near Cadiz; Sugarcreek Ski Hills near Bellbrook; Alpine Resort in Morrow and Clear Fork, Snow Trails and Valley High.

Williams Set In Comeback Bid Tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — Boxer Cleveland Williams, the world's No. 2 heavyweight challenger when he received critical gunshot wounds in 1964, makes his first appearance in the ring tonight after 15 months of recuperation.

He underwent several operations and was hospitalized a number of months, during which time his weight dropped from a normal 216 pounds to about 160.

Young Black, who has compiled only a 9-2-1 record, is comparatively new to professional boxing. The 6-foot-4, 235-pounder is considered, however, one of the bright young heavyweight prospects.

Williams, who has the best record of any active heavyweight with a 65-4-1 record, was to have fought for the World Boxing Association's world heavyweight title in January 1965. However, the severe wound he sustained two months earlier changed all that.

Williams' weight is back to 216 and he says he's ready.

"If anything, I feel stronger," he said. "My stomach is harder than ever. If I had any pain at all I wouldn't fight. But I feel great and I'm ready to fight."

Dunbar Holds Poll Lead In West Virginia

By The Associated Press

Lately there seem to be tigers everywhere, in tanks, razors, bread, there are even a few left in the jungle. About the only place there aren't any tigers is among the top 10 high school basketball teams in the state.

The Bulldogs of Dunbar lead in the balloting by sports writers and sportscasters for the Associated Press. After that come two kinds of eagles, red devils, owls, little reds and various kinds of humans.

South Charleston's Black Eagles moved into the second position behind Dunbar. The Indians of Oceana also moved up a notch to third.

Big Creek's Owls proved wise by not venturing out in the bad weather last week and kept their No. 5 position.

The first set of Red Devils, from Oak Hill, moved into the sixth spot, just ahead of Richwood's Lumberjacks. Richwood lost its first game of the season last week and fell from second to seventh.

Beckley's Flying Eagles held on to the No. 8 position, with a close victory over St. Albans Monday night, 68-67.

Sailing has been relatively smooth for the ninth - ranked Warwood Vikings, but it might be rougher tonight when they meet Triadelphia.

There are some more Red Devils, this time from White Sulphur Springs, in the tenth position. But things could get hot for them since they have to share the rating with the Crusaders from Parkersburg Catholic.

The Mullens Rebels went down in defeat once too often and slipped off the chart.

The top 10, including record and points received:

1. Dunbar	13-1	80
2. South Charleston	13-1	67
3. Oceana	12-1	63
4. Triadelphia	13-1	58
5. Big Creek	12-1	51
6. Oak Hill	11-2	48
7. Richwood	10-1	36
8. Beckley	8-3	30
9. Warwood	12-2	26
10. White Sulphur Springs	12-2	26
10. Parkersburg Catholic	13-1	20

Harper, Several Other Reds Sign Contracts

CINCINNATI (AP) — Outfielder Tommy Harper and seven other players have returned their signed 1966 season contracts to the Cincinnati Reds baseball club, the club said today.

Harper, who is expected to take Frank Robinson's place in right field, batted .257 last season with 18 home runs and 64 runs batted in.

Waynesburg College Coach Redskins Aide

Mets Sign Hunt

NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Hunt became the 21st New York Met to sign his contract when he agreed to accept a $25,000 salary Monday but the National League tail-enders may not find it so easy to corral some of the other regulars.

Cincy Group Seeks State, National Aid

CINCINNATI (AP) — A city-county delegation seeking financial aid for Cincinnati's proposed riverfront sports stadium visits Columbus today to talk to state officials.

The delegation is scheduled to go to Washington Thursday to see if any federal funds are available for the multimillion dollar project.

Cincinnati hopes to use the stadium as bait to lure a National Football League franchise to the city for the 1967 season. The NFL team would share the stadium with the Cincinnati Reds baseball club.

The Cincinnati delegation hopes for state aid to build access roads to the stadium and also plans to ask Gov. James A. Rhodes to declare the site a state park that would be eligible for further assistance.

In Washington, the delegation plans to confer with Urban Renewal officials and the Bureau of Public Roads.

Details of how the stadium will be financed have not been worked out.

Packers Get Schnelker As An Assistant

GREEN BAY, WIS. (AP) — Bob Schnelker, former New York Giant end, has been appointed end coach with the Green Bay Packers, the Packers announced today.

A nine-year National Football League veteran, Schnelker caught 213 passes for 3,713 yards during his career and was twice named to the Pro Bowl squad. His best season was 1959 when he caught 37 passes for 714 yards and six touchdowns.

The onetime Bowling Green Star joined the Giants in 1954. He closed out his playing career with Pittsburgh and Minnesota in 1961 and has been a coach with the Los Angeles Rams since 1963.

Pittsburgh Makes Pitch To NHL Unit

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League board of governors continued interviewing applicants today for franchises in a proposed 1967-68 expansion division that would double the present six-team circuit.

"We don't expect to make any announcements until Wednesday," NHL President Clarence Campbell said Monday after groups from five cities appeared before the club owners in the first of a three-day series of presentations.

Representatives from two of the bidding cities — Baltimore and San Francisco-Oakland — came out of the session in a midtown hotel confident their applications will be accepted.

Groups from Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and Buffalo also made 30-minute presentations Monday before the owners of the existing NHL clubs — Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Chicago, New York and Detroit.

Slipton Fell Rated One Of Winningest Horses

Slipton Fell, one of America's winningest horses, listed fifth nationally in point of races won last year, is returning to Waterford Park for the 252-day race season that starts Feb. 26.

Of the more than 30,000 horses that raced last year, there were only six that won more races than Slipton Fell, owned by Ceil Rogers. Although he was fifth there was a three-way tie for fourth place in the final standings.

Tops among winners was Chillicot with 15 scores; next came Bonded Suite with 14; Albergo, 13; then Boston Belle, Durbin Delight and Sugar Plum Fairy with 12 each. Slipton Fell wound up with 11.

Slipton Fell is one of the eight horses Rogers will campaign at Waterford Park this year. The hard-hitting six-year-old usually does very well year in and year out. Seldom does he run up sensational consecutive triumphs.

Last year his best was a string of four wins starting October 15 at six furlongs and ending with a decisive score at one mile on November 20. But then few horses have succeeded in winning race after race. Not even Man o'War. He lost one of 21 starts and his defeat was to the aptly named Upset in what was certainly the outstanding upset of the century.

Colin, on the other hand, went through an unsullied career, starting 15 times and winning 15 races, mainly because his owner and also trainer kept close tab on the opposition and never entered him where the going was too rough or tough.

Despite this fact, nothing can be taken away from Colin, who raced in an era of other "greats".

Vanderpool, a meteor that flashed briefly a few years ago, won 15 races before bowing, and thereafter was an inconsistent sort.

In England one of the best none-losers was St. Simon who engaged only nine times and was never headed. He was retired only because no rivals would race against him. Barcaldine was another who never tasted defeat. He entered the winners circle on 12 occasions.

Nearer our day and age, the truly great Citation made a run of 16 consecutive triumphs. Nashua ran up a skein of six, the best he could do, but for sheer saga there is nothing like the herculean effort of Kinesem, greatest of all European mares. She started 54 times and no horse ever led her to the finish line.

Fetes like these may be repeated this year at Waterford Park where the elongated meeting of 252 days gets under way on Saturday, February 26 and runs through December 17. Post time until March 28 will be 2 p.m. then it will be moved back to 7:15 p.m. nightly.

Who'll Get Lindsay's Congress Seat?

Political Leaders Watch New York Election Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The candidates are largely unknown, the issues are few, and the outcome is a toss-up, but national political leaders nevertheless are watching today to see who will take Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay's place in Congress.

Orin Lehman, 46, a Democrat, and Theodore Kupferman, 45, a Republican, are the leading candidates to serve the remaining 11 months of Lindsay's term.

A third candidate, Jeffrey St. John, 35, is given practically no chance of an upset. He is a Conservative party candidate in a district that has favored liberals.

While the campaign was waged only mildly and produced no burning issues, many political observers view the outcome as a possible indication of how the parties may fare nationally in this fall's congressional elections. Some feel it may be a test of President Johnson's policies.

Between 65,000 and 95,000 voters of Manhattan's wealthy "silk stocking" 17th Congressional District are expected to cast ballots. The district, which embraces the East Side and part of Greenwich Village, is 3-2 Democratic but has not elected a Democratic representative since 1937. It has 215,000 registered voters, many of them independents.

Both leading candidates appeared to be in substantial agreement with Johnson on the key issues of Viet Nam that dominated the month-long campaign. Neither contender advocates United States withdrawal from Viet Nam, but both believe that Washington should press harder for negotiations and leave as soon as a "democratic" Viet Nam can be guaranteed.

On the other hand, ... John dubbed Lehman and Kupferman "the peace twins" and called for victory in Viet Nam. In an unusual propaganda proposal, he advocated that the United States bomb Red China with bread — "Lyndon's loaves" as he called them.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., both have endorsed Lehman, a grandnephew of Herbert Lehman, the late Democratic governor and senator. Lehman, who walks on an artificial leg with crutches as a result of World War II wounds, also has the backing of the Central Labor Council.

Kupferman, a city councilman and law partner of Lindsay's former campaign manager, Deputy Mayor Robert Price, received campaign help from Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and endorsement only from Mayor Lindsay, who had pledged to be "non-partisan."

Addresses Principals' Assn.

Educators In Cleveland Applaud Humphrey Talk

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, ranging from Viet Nam demonstrators to famine, drew the loudest applause from educators when he said they must do their best to help themselves.

"I am unalterably opposed to have education programs designed from a central headquarters," he told the 50th anniversary convention of the National Association of Secondary School Principals Monday night.

"We don't need any federal czars, no federal clubs," he said. "What we need is a little spark, a little ingenuity from all levels."

Before Humphrey began his speech, about 25 pickets protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam walked in a circle in front of Public Hall. They were countered by the same number of pickets supporting U. S. policy.

Humphrey upheld the right to dissent, but said "it's more important that the people of America concentrate their energies on helping other people help themselves rather than becoming amateur sign painters."

Speaking to a crowd of 8,000 Humphrey said President Johnson has placed in the forefront a foreign aid program aimed at health and education.

Johnson's proposal calls for "investment in human beings," abroad, Humphrey said and "the investment of human beings and their capabilities is critical . . . ."

In the emphasis on helping the underdeveloped countires, Humphrey mentioned enlargement of foreign aid programs for educational assistance, especially in teacher training and vocational and scientific education.

Humphrey's speech capped a six-hour visit to Cleveland starting with a visit to St. Charles Borromeo elementary school in suburban Parma and a reception attended by Cuyahoga County Democratic Party leaders.

Trusted Federal Prisoners Due Periods With Families

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trusted federal prisoners soon will be allowed to spend weekends with their families outside prison walls.

Under a law enacted by Congress last year, nearly 100 minimum-security prisoners have left confinement for deathbed visits, funerals and pre-release job interviews.

"These men can now leave prison unescorted to visit the dying," Alexander said in an interview in which he disclosed the extension of the furlough plan. "But how much more important it is to strengthen their ties with the living."

He sees the furlough plan as a "valuable treatment device that can make a major contribution to a man's preparation for the outside world."

Under the new regulations, he said, prisoners will be given 48-hour passes to visit their wives, children, parents "or other responsible members of the immediate family."

If the hometown is too far away to make such visits practical, the prisoners will be allowed to meet relatives in a nearby community.

Except for staying within the limits of the area agreed on in advance — and, of course, staying out of trouble — there will be no restrictions on their activities with their families, Alexander said.

"They can have a meal in a restaurant, stay in a hotel, go to the movies, or go to church together," he said.

Each prisoner will be limited to four such furloughs a year.

No government money is involved. Either the families of the prisoners will pay the expense of the furlough, or the prisoners may draw on their prison accounts, accumulated through work in prison industries.

Alexander said he decided to go ahead with the expaned furlough plan after 100 prisoners had been released for emergency furloughs under the new law — and all had returned to confinement on schedule.

None Seriously Hurt In Landing Of Copter

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP) — Three men escaped serious injury in the crash landing of their helicopter on the frozen Allegheny River in Armstrong County.

The helicopter was flying two Pittsburgh newsmen on an assignment Monday when it clipped some telephone cables and was forced down.

Adam Lynch, a reporter for television station WHC, Steve Hutsko, a photographer for the same station, and Bud Hoffman, the pilot, made their way safely ashore near East Brady. Hutsko was slightly injured. The newsmen were photographing ice conditions on the river.

Chronic respiratory diseases, including tuberculosis, affect about 20 million Americans annually and cause one out of 10 deaths, according to the National Tuberculosis Assn.

Who'll Get Lindsay's Congress Seat?

Political Leaders Watch New York Election Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The candidates are largely unknown, the issues are few, and the outcome is a toss-up, but national political leaders nevertheless are watching today to see who will take Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay's place in Congress.

Orin Lehman, 46, a Democrat, and Theodore Kupferman, 45, a Republican, are the leading candidates to serve the remaining 11 months of Lindsay's term.

A third candidate, Jeffrey St. John, 35, is given practically no chance of an upset. He is a Conservative party candidate in a district that has favored liberals.

While the campaign was waged only mildly and produced no burning issues, many political observers view the outcome as a possible indication of how the parties may fare nationally in this fall's congressional elections. Some feel it may be a test of President Johnson's policies.

Between 65,000 and 95,000 voters of Manhattan's wealthy "silk stocking" 17th Congressional District are expected to cast ballots. The district, which embraces the East Side and part of Greenwich Village, is 3-2 Democratic but has not elected a Democratic representative since 1937. It has 215,000 registered voters, many of them independents.

Both leading candidates appeared to be in substantial agreement with Johnson on the key issues of Viet Nam that dominated the month-long campaign. Neither contender advocates United States withdrawal from Viet Nam, but both believe that Washington should press harder for negotiations and leave as soon as a "democratic" Viet Nam can be guaranteed.

On the other hand, — John dubbed Lehman and Kupferman "the peace twins" and called for victory in Viet Nam. In an unusual propaganda proposal, he advocated that the United States bomb Red China with bread — "Lyndon's loaves" as he called them.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., both have endorsed Lehman, a grandnephew of Herbert Lehman, the late Democratic governor and senator. Lehman, who walks on an artificial leg with crutches as a result of World War II wounds, also has the backing of the Central Labor Council.

Kupferman, a city councilman and law partner of Lindsay's former campaign manager, Deputy Mayor Robert Price, received campaign help from Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and endorsement only from Mayor Lindsay, who had pledged to be "non-partisan."

Addresses Principals' Assn.

Educators In Cleveland Applaud Humphrey Talk

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, ranging from Viet Nam demonstrators to famine, drew the loudest applause from educators when he said they must do their best to help themselves.

"I am unalterably opposed to have education programs designed from a central headquarters," he told the 50th anniversary convention of the National Association of Secondary School Principals Monday night.

"We don't need any federal czars, no federal clubs," he said. "What we need is a little spark, a little ingenuity from all levels."

Before Humphrey began his speech, about 25 pickets protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam walked in a circle in front of Public Hall. They were countered by the same number of pickets supporting U. S. policy.

Humphrey upheld the right to dissent, but said "it's more important that the people of America concentrate their energies on helping other people help themselves rather than becoming amateur sign painters."

Several fights broke out between the protesters and the crowd that gathered to watch, but no one was seriously hurt.

Speaking to a crowd of 8,000 Humphrey said President Johnson has placed in the forefront a foreign aid program aimed at health and education.

Johnson's proposal calls for "investment in human beings," abroad, Humphrey said and "the investment of human beings and their capabilities is critical . . . ."

In the emphasis on helping the underdeveloped countires, Humphrey mentioned enlargement of foreign aid programs for educational assistance, especially in teacher training and vocational and scientific education.

Humphrey's speech capped a six-hour visit to Cleveland starting with a visit to St. Charles Borromeo elementary school in suburban Parma and a reception attended by Cuyahoga County Democratic Party leaders.

Trusted Federal Prisoners Due Periods With Families

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trusted federal prisoners soon will be allowed to spend weekends with their families outside prison walls.

The unprecedented furloughs, federal prisons Director Myrl E. Alexander said today, "will strengthen and maintain family ties."

Under a law enacted by Congress last year, nearly 100 minimum-security prisoners have left confinement for deathbed visits, funerals and pre-release job interviews.

"These men can now leave prison unescorted to visit the dying," Alexander said in an interview in which he disclosed the extension of the furlough plan. "But how much more important it is to strengthen their ties with the living."

He sees the furlough plan as a "valuable treatment device that can make a major contribution to a man's preparation for the outside world."

Under the new regulations, he said, prisoners will be given 48-hour passes to visit their wives, children, parents "or other responsible members of the immediate family."

If the hometown is too far away to make such visits practical, the prisoners will be allowed to meet relatives in a nearby community.

Except for staying within the limits of the area agreed on in advance — and, of course, staying out of trouble — there will be no restrictions on their activities with their families, Alexander said.

"They can have a meal in a restaurant, stay in a hotel, go to the movies, or go to church together," he said.

The privilege will not be extended to men convicted of violent crimes or those identified with "large-scale organized crime activities."

Each prisoner will be limited to four such furloughs a year.

No government money is involved. Either the families of the prisoners will pay the expense of the furlough, or the prisoners may draw on their prison accounts, accumulated through work in prison industries.

Alexander said he decided to go ahead with the expaned furlough plan after 100 prisoners had been released for emergency furloughs under the new law — and all had returned to confinement on schedule.

None Seriously Hurt In Landing Of Copter

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP) — Three men escaped serious injury in the crash landing of their helicopter on the frozen Allegheny River in Armstrong County.

The helicopter was flying two Pittsburgh newsmen on an assignment Monday when it clipped some telephone cables and was forced down.

Adam Lynch, a reporter for television station WHC, Steve Hutsko, a photographer for the same station, and Bud Hoffman, the pilot, made their way safely ashore near East Brady. Hutsko was slightly injured. The newsmen were photographing ice conditions on the river.

Chronic respiratory diseases, including tuberculosis, affect about 20 million Americans annually and cause one out of 10 deaths, according to the National Tuberculosis Assn.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Samuel J. Lawton who passed away 10 years ago today, Feb. 8.
Time can not steal the treasures
Nor ever dim the shining thoughts
The cherished past imparts.
And memories of the one we loved
Still casts a gentle glow
To grace our days, and light our path
Wherever we may go.
Your memory is our keepsake
With that we'll never part.
God has you in His keeping
We have you in our hearts.
Sadly missed

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this date in 1904, the Japanese besieged Port Arthur, Manchuria, starting the Russo-Japanese war. The Russians were defeated by Jan. 1, 1905.

In 1902, the great Paterson, N.J., fire started at midnight, destroying property worth $8 million, including five churches, two banks, some of the largest stores and about 250 dwellings.

In 1949, Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life imprisonment by the Communist government in Hungary. He was released in 1956 and took refuge in the U.S. Embassy.

Junior Editors Quiz on WATER CYCLE

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Water is continually being moved around between the earth's water masses, the air and the land; this is the water cycle. To the middle right of our picture, the arrows pointing upward represents the first stage of the water cycle. Heat, coming from the sun, warms the surface of the sea and of ponds and lakes. This turns some of the warmed water into invisible water vapor, which is evaporated or moved up into the air. A great deal of water vapor also moves upward from the green leaves of plants. The warmed air is cooled as it rises, and the water vapor in it condenses in visible form as cloud. Many clouds are carried overland by wind and, under certain conditions, the moisture contained comes down on the land as rain or snow. From here, it works downwards. Sinking into the soil, it seeps down to join the underlying ground water, or it may come down in the form of streams and rivers which empty into the sea. Here evaporation begins again; the water cycle starts once more. This water cycle is a precious thing to us. During its course, it gives us water to drink, without which we could not live.

FOR YOU TO DO: The water cycle may become upset by various changes in climate conditions, resulting in a scarcity of water in certain parts of the country. If you live in one of these drought-stricken areas, you can help a great deal. Use as little water as possible. You will be helping yourself as well as others.
